Terps win men's soccer title after falling short 3 times

MARYLAND 1

BY KEVIN VAN VALKENBURG
STAFF REPORTER

CARY, N.C. – Sasho Cirovski's daughters understood. They understood how disappointing the previous three trips to the College Cup had been for their father. Maryland's soccer coach for 13 seasons and how much winning would mean to him this time. So before Cirovski kissed them good-bye this week, 11-year-old Hadley, 9-year-old Karli and 3-year-old Ellie each wrote him a note.

Inside, this is a lucky year. Hadley Cirovski wrote, carefully putting her message on red construction paper with a marker. The coach was so moved, he tucked all three notes in his pocket, then left them there, hoping that may-be just, maybe, his girls were right.

A little luck might have made the difference yesterday at the SAS Soccer Park as Maryland defeated New Mexico, 1-0, to win its fir[st] national championship. After three consecutive bad bounces and four Terps had several go[od] time, none bigger t[han] goal by Marc Burch found the net after a Lobos defender ...

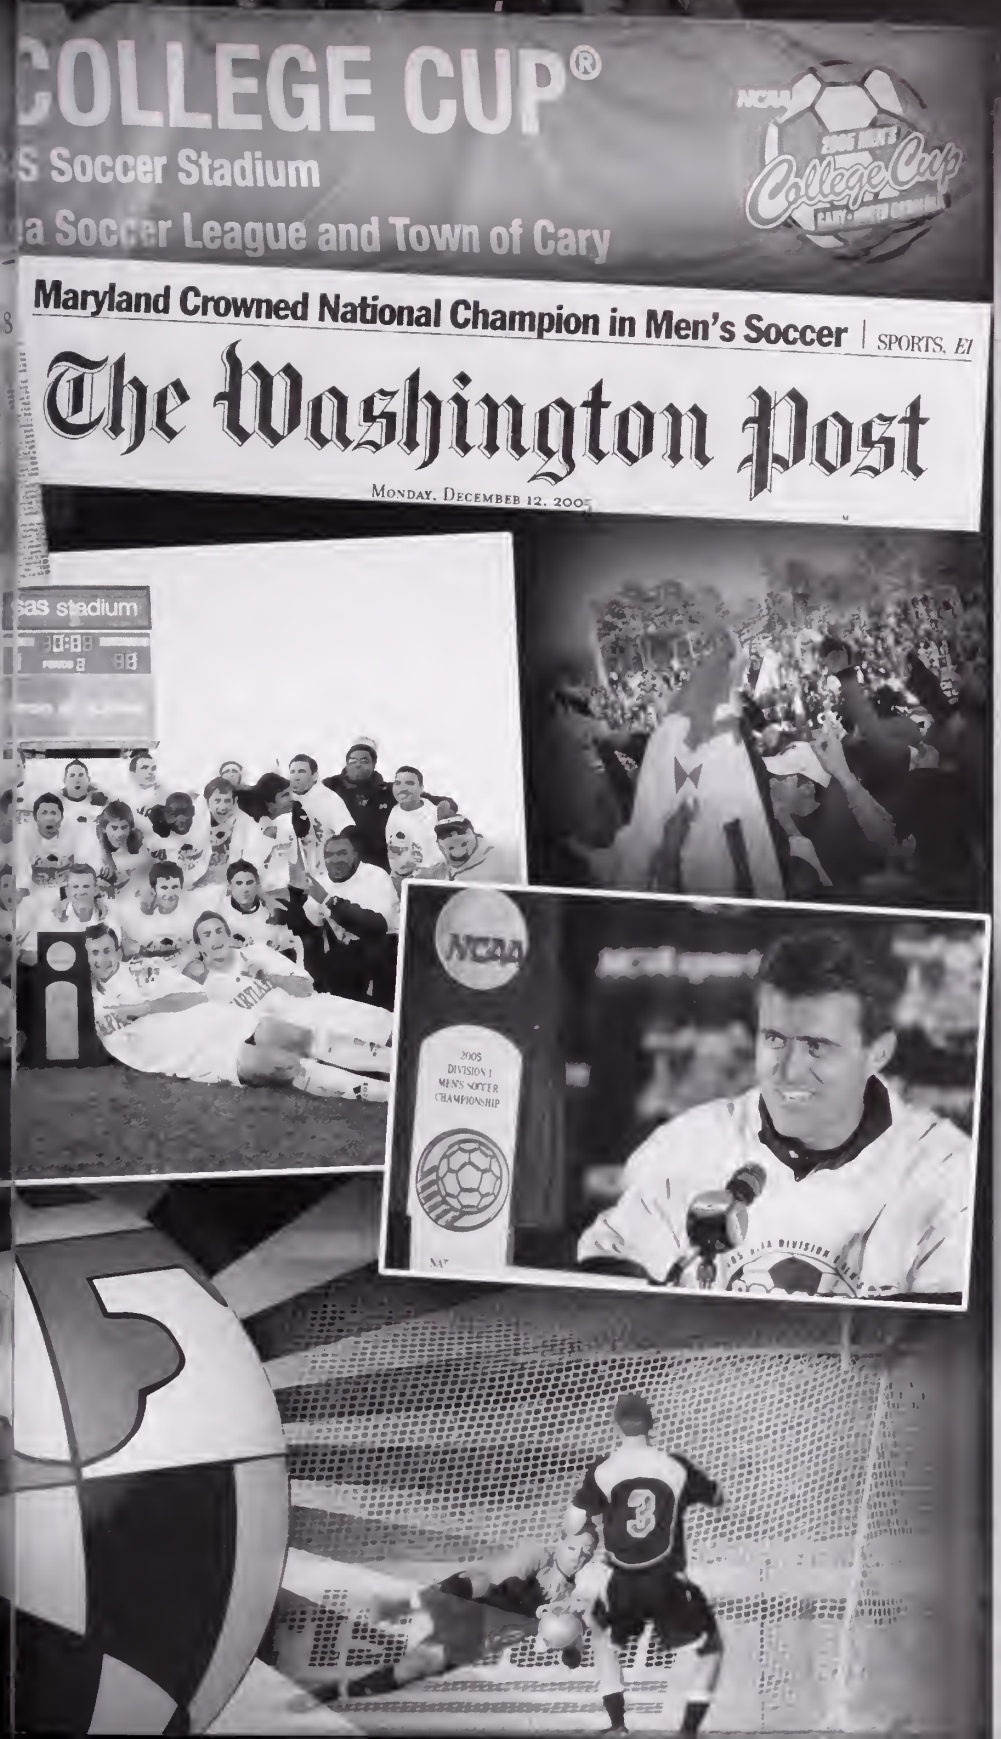
Maryland's Jason Garey (9), Robbie Rodger (8) and Marc Burch, who scored the only goal, celebrate the Terps national championship.

NCAA CHAMPS



2005 :: TITLE TERPS

- The Terps started the season slowly at 5-3-0, but Maryland went 10-0-1 in its next 11 matches and ultimately finished with a regular season record of 14-3-1.
- Maryland defeated Wake Forest in the first round of the ACC Championship, but lost to eventual champion Duke in the semifinals.
- For their efforts, the Terps were rewarded with the No. 1 overall seed in the NCAA Tournament.
- Maryland faced Brown in the second round of the tournament and took a 1-0 win over the Bears. Marc Burch scored in the 26th minute for the game-winner as the Maryland defense held the Bears to just four total shots in the match.
- The Terps had to get past St. John's in the third round, a team they had faced the past two years in the NCAA Tournament with each team taking a victory.
- Maryland handled the Red Storm this time, winning a 3-1 decision to advance to the quarterfinals. Stephen King recorded two goals in the win and Robbie Rogers recorded a goal and an assist. Burch dished out two assists in the win while Chris Seitz was credited with six saves.
- The Terps had to face Akron in the quarterfinals in order to advance to their fourth-straight College Cup appearance. The Zips were the No. 8 seed and spent much of the season as the top team in the nation.
- Kenney Bertz struck first for the Terps in the 21st minute, but Akron responded before halftime with a goal of its own in the 44th minute.
- The teams traded quality chances in the second half and through two overtime periods, but the match would have to be decided by penalty kicks.
- Seitz forced two misses, including one save, and Burch converted the winning PK as the Terps moved on with a 4-1 win in the shootout.
- Maryland faced SMU in the College Cup for a chance to play for the national title and Maryland would easily get past the Mustangs, 4-1. Graham Zusi struck first in the 44th minute and Jason Garey scored twice within 15 seconds in the 47th minute, an NCAA Tournament record, to seal the win. King also scored for the Terps.
- In the NCAA title game, No. 1 Maryland faced No. 2 New Mexico for the first time. In the 31st minute, Burch took a free kick from 25 yards out and blasted it towards goal. The shot was redirected by New Mexico's wall and found the back of the net.
- In the 50th minute, the Lobos were awarded a penalty kick after a handball in the box. Seitz got a beat on Andrew Boyens blast to the right and made the stop, then forced the rebound to miss high. That was the last quality chance New Mexico got as the Terps won their first national championship since 1968.

"We have a saying in our locker room that says, 'The greatest glory is not in never falling, but in rising every time we fall.' I am very proud of the persistence our program has shown to be here in this position today."

– Sasho Cirovski in the post-game press conference after Maryland's 1-0 win over New Mexico for the NCAA title.

LAND SOCCER

PLAYING FOR CHAMPIONSHIPS

1 :: In 2006, Maryland won its first NCAA Championship since 1968. The Maryland men's soccer team's ascent to the title was not a meteoric rise, a quick trip to the top of the mountain. It was a long road that was sprinkled with moments of brilliance and disappointment, but always total commitment to each other and a goal. The Terp program was not validated with a national championship, but only reinforced its position among the nation's elite.

RECORD ATTENDANCE

2 :: Maryland drew over 40,000 fans for the first time in history in 2006, the second highest total in the NCAA. The Terps were also third in the nation in average attendance at 2,727 per game.

Three of Maryland's top five crowds in Ludwig Field history came in 2006. A record-setting crowd of 6,489 fans came out to Ludwig to watch Maryland beat Duke, 1-0, in a match televised internationally on Fox Soccer Channel. In addition, 6,214 spectators watched Boston College in its first trip ever to College Park and 4,565 came out to watch the Terps take on NC State.

WINNING TRADITION

3 :: Sasho Cirovski, now in his 15th season at the helm at Maryland, has built one of the nation's premier soccer programs:

- 92 wins over the past five seasons is the most in the country
- Advanced to the College Cup 10 times, including four of the last five years
- Advanced to the NCAA Tournament 26 times, including 12 of the last 13 seasons
- 13-straight winning seasons

TOP PICKS

4 :: Maurice Edu became the second Maryland player to be drafted No. 1 overall in the 2007 MLS SuperDraft when Toronto FC tabbed him as the top pick. Chris Seitz was drafted fourth by Real Salt Lake, which is just the fourth time in MLS history that two student-athletes from the same school were selected in the top five.

TERPS IN THE MLS

5 :: More than a dozen players currently in the MLS began their careers at Maryland, including from left to right:

- Taylor Twellman, the 2005 Honda MVP and Budweiser Golden Boot winner
- Clarence Goodson, starting defender for FC Dallas
- Seth Stammler, starting midfielder for New York Red Bulls

TERPS RECOGNIZED

6 :: Jason Garey became the program's first winner of the MAC Hermann Trophy in 2005.

- Thirty players have been named NSCAA All-Americans, including first-teamer Maurice Edu in 2006.
- Since 1995, nine players have finished in the top 15 in voting for the MAC Hermann Trophy.
- The Terps had six players honored by the ACC in 2006, including two first team picks and the Defensive Player of the Year (Chris Seitz) and Freshman of the Year (Jeremy Hall).

LUDWIG FIELD

MARYLAND SOCCER: A SPECTATOR SPORT!

The Maryland men's soccer team has increasingly attracted more and more fans to Ludwig Field season after season. Last year, the team set a school record with over 40,000 fans, a total that was second-best in the country. The Terps success and winning ways are a major factor in packing the stands, but there is more to the team's increasing popularity than just wins and losses. The electric atmosphere features one of the most vocal and supportive student groups in the country lurking behind the opponents' goal: The Crew. In addition, the intimacy of Ludwig Field puts fans right in the middle of the action. And the Terps play an attacking, offensive brand of soccer that delivers the excitement that only a goal can provide. All of this has helped make a Maryland men's soccer game a popular, exciting and unique fan experience.

TOP FIVE CROWDS IN LUDWIG FIELD HISTORY

Date	Opponent	Attendance
Sept. 29, 2006	Duke	6,489
Oct. 14, 2006	Boston College	6,214
Oct. 29, 2005	Indiana	6,203
Sept. 5, 2003	UCLA	6,143
Sept. 16, 2006	NC State	4,565

Since its opening in 1995, state-of-the-art Ludwig Field has been the home of the Terrapin men's and women's soccer teams as well as playing host to numerous other local soccer events throughout the past 12 years.

Due to the expanding horizon of Terrapin soccer and the growing interest in its achievement on the field, the University of Maryland embarked on a project that would bring the level of the facility on par with the excellence of the programs that played there.

The $2.5 million facility was dedicated on Sept. 16, 1995, and is surely a cornerstone of collegiate soccer throughout the nation.

The 4,500-seat facility is an integral part of the more than $40 million of new construction for Maryland athletics. The complex is fully lighted with an all-weather track and sodded Bermuda grass playing field. In 2004, a new state-of-the-art scoreboard with in-game statistics and lively graphics was installed.

The permanent lights allow for commonly scheduled night games. The lights also allow Maryland the ability to host NCAA and Atlantic Coast Conference tournaments and nationally televised games. Since its opening, Ludwig Field has played host to 23 NCAA Tournament games, including 11 Maryland wins in the tournament in the last five years. Those wins allowed the Terps to make four consecutive College Cup appearances from 2002-05.

Fans came out to watch Maryland in record numbers over the past few seasons. Last season, the Terps set a school record in attendance with over 40,000 people. The total ranked second in the NCAA, and the Terps average attendance of 2,727 ranked third in the country. Highlighting the home season in 2006 was a record crowd of 6,489 to see Maryland play Duke. In addition, two more home dates in 2006 rank in the top five all-time at Ludwig Field. A crowd of 6,214 came out to watch Boston College in their first ever match in College Park which ranks second and NC State drew 4,565 which is fifth. In 2005, Maryland set a record as over 33,000 fans came out to watch the Terps play highlighted by the then-record of 6,203 that came out to watch the Terps take on Indiana. In 2004, the Terps had three crowds of over 3,200 in games against St. John's (one regular season, one postseason) and Duke. In 2003, nearly 30,000 people came to watch the Terps play, the second-highest total in the nation.

In addition to the collegiate games played at Ludwig Field, the complex has played host to numerous U.S. and professional soccer matches, as well. Among the teams who have used Ludwig Field as their home-away-from-home are the 2000 U.S. Women's National Team and the WUSA's own Washington Freedom.

In addition to the high-level of competition created by the excellent playing surface at Ludwig Field, the complex was also created with the local soccer fan very much in mind. The field is located directly adjacent to Parking Lot 1 and close to the University Boulevard entrance.

Numerous Terrapin All-Americans have called the field home, with Maryland fighting its way to an 113-30-7 record on its home field.

The facility is named after lifetime Terrapin friends Bob and Louise Ludwig.

SASHO CIROVSKI

15TH SEASON AT MARYLAND • 17TH SEASON OVERALL
WISCONSIN-MILWAUKEE, '85

Upon his arrival in College Park in 1993, Sasho Cirovski has transformed Maryland into a national soccer power, leading the Terps to the 2005 NCAA title, five College Cup appearances, and two ACC titles, all the while producing numerous top-level professional players. After 14 seasons at Maryland, the 2005 NSCAA National Coach of the Year has instilled his passion for excellence in a soccer program that expects to compete for the national title every season.

During his tenure with the Terps, Maryland has been to the NCAA Tournament 12 times, advancing to the Final Four in five of those years, including four straight appearances from 2002-05, culminating in the NCAA title in 2005. The Terps have also captured two ACC Tournament titles (1996 and 2002) and two ACC regular season titles (2003 and 2005) during his stay in College Park. His overall record, which includes two seasons at Hartford, stands at 229-105-21, and his record at Maryland is an impressive 203-93-15.

Despite losing six student-athletes from the national championship team in 2005, Cirovski led the Terps back to the NCAA Tournament in 2006, marking the sixth-straight season that Maryland advanced to the postseason. The Terps advanced to the Sweet Sixteen and finished the season with a 16-5-1 record.

In addition to the team's success last year, three student-athletes went on to pursue professional careers in Major League Soccer. Maurice Edu, a junior midfielder, was the No. 1 overall pick in the MLS SuperDraft on January 12. He was the second Maryland player to ever be taken with the first pick. Sophomore keeper Chris Seitz also decided to turn to the professional ranks and was chosen No. 4 overall in the SuperDraft. It marked just the fourth time in MLS SuperDraft history that two student-athletes from the same school were selected in the top five. Senior A.J. Godbolt was later taken in the supplemental draft.

The 2005 championship run did not mark the arrival of the Maryland program, but helped validate its place alongside the nation's elite. In addition to a fourth-straight College Cup appearance, the Terps won the ACC regular season title and posted a 19-4-2 mark. In addition, Cirovski helped mentor Maryland's first Hermann Trophy winner in Jason Garey, who left Maryland as the school's all-time leader in goals (60) and points (140) and was the third pick in the MLS SuperDraft. Cirovski was named the ACC Coach of the Year for the second time of his career, and was the NSCAA National Coach of the Year for the first time in his career as the Terps brought home their first national title in soccer since 1968.

Under Cirovski's guidance, the Terps have brought fans out to Ludwig Field in record numbers. For the fourth straight season, Maryland ranked No. 2 in the country in total attendance, and the 6,489 fans that watched the Terps beat Duke set a Ludwig Field record. Cirovski's efforts to build a winning team that plays an exciting brand of soccer are only matched by his efforts to build Ludwig Field into one of the top soccer venues in the country.

In addition to his leadership on the sidelines, Cirovski is also in his fourth season as a leader in college soccer as the chairman of the men's soccer NSCAA Division I committee. As chairman, Cirovski was the architect in creating the position of NSCAA Program Director, a major triumph for the sport. This position will be the singular voice of college soccer in dealing with NCAA legislative issues, overseeing College Cups and elevating the significance and status of the sport. He was also vital in brokering the television partnership between Fox Soccer Channel and the NSCAA, guaranteeing a weekly spot for college soccer on television.

"Sasho has not only a vision and a passion to improve and promote college soccer but he has the knowledge and the dedication to pursue new ideas," North Carolina head coach Elmar Bolowich said. "His enthusiasm for our sport is infectious and it will unite Division I college coaches to pursue our objectives and achieve them."

Cirovski has brought success to every program he has been a part of. After helping his alma mater, Wisconsin-Milwaukee, to its first NCAA Tournament appearance in a decade as an assistant coach under Bob Gansler, he assumed the top spot at Hartford in 1991. In his two seasons with the Hawks, he took the team to back-to-back 13-6-3 records and consecutive NCAA Tournament appearances for the first time in school history. He then came to Maryland in 1993 to help resurrect a once-proud program that had been to only one NCAA Tournament in the last 16 years.

Cirovski has since built Maryland into one of the top programs in the nation and has given the Terps some of the finest seasons in school history. Here is a look at the year-by-year highlights of the Cirovski Era:

1994: In just his second season with the Terps, Maryland went to the second round of the NCAA Tournament, and finished with a 14-6-1 record. A 4-3 first-round NCAA win over Georgetown was the program's first since 1969, and marked the first time since 1986 that Maryland received an invitation to the Big Dance. The Terps' improvement from a 3-14-1 record during Cirovski's first year to a 14-6-1 record marked the greatest single-season turnaround in the 44-year history of the ACC.

1995: Maryland again advanced to the second round of the NCAA Tournament. The Terrapins finished second in the ACC with a 4-1-1 mark, and ended the year ranked as high as No. 15 by Soccer America.

1996: Maryland made history when it won the 1996 ACC Championship, the first-ever tournament championship in the program's history. The Terps again advanced to the second round of the NCAA Tournament before falling to William & Mary.

1997: After a fourth-place regular-season finish, the Terps again advanced to the ACC championship game before falling to Virginia. Maryland advanced to the NCAA second round for the fourth consecutive season, defeating Rutgers (1-0) in the first round before losing to American, 1-0. The Terps finished 1997 with a record of 16-6-1, a school record for wins in a season, and finished ranked No. 10 in the nation.

1998: Another milestone was reached on Jan. 31, 1998, when Leo Cullen was selected as the No. 1 draft pick by the Miami Fusion in the Major League Soccer collegiate draft. A Hermann and Missouri Athletic Club award finalist in 1996 and 1997, Cullen was also selected as the 1997 ACC Player of the Year, an NSCAA first-team All-American and Collegiate MVP by Soccer America.

1998: Cirovski attracted the nation's top recruiting class to College Park before the 1998 season, and led by National Freshman of the Year Taylor Twellman, and Maryland's all-time career assist leader, Keith Beach, the Terrapins finished the regular season 12-6. The Terps made their fifth straight NCAA tournament run, advancing all the way to their first national semifinal appearance since 1969.

1999: The 1999 season saw Cirovski's team spend two weeks in the No. 1 slot in the Soccer America poll for the first time in school history. The Terps also ended the regular season with 14 wins, tying a program record for most wins in a regular season. Receiving its sixth straight NCAA bid, No. 6-seed Maryland was defeated by St. John's on its home field with a 1-0 loss in the 89th minute to bring its season to an end.

1999: Terrapin sophomores Dan Califf and Taylor Twellman both opted to explore their options in the professional ranks with Califf being selected in the first round by the Los Angeles Galaxy of MLS and Twellman signing with the 1860 Munich of the German Bundesliga, adding to Cirovski's list of former Terps currently enjoying successful professional careers. Twellman has since moved to MLS, earned a spot as an all-star starter in 2002, and led the league in points and goals per game in 2003.

2001: After a 10-9 record in 2000, the Terps returned to the NCAA Tournament again in 2001 for Cirovski's seventh NCAA appearance at Maryland. The Terrapins advanced to the second round after defeating Notre Dame before losing in overtime to Loyola 1-0 in the second round. The team was back in the Top 25 at the end of the year, finishing 25th in the NSCAA's final poll.

2002: Maryland fell just short of the NCAA title losing in the Final Four and finished third in the NSCAA/adidas final poll. The Terps had made their second College Cup appearance in four years and captured the school's second ACC Tournament title in addition to leading Terps to a program-best 20 wins.

2003: Cirovski was named the ACC Coach of the Year in helping guide Maryland to a 20-3-1 record, its first No. 1 ranking in the NSCAA poll, a second consecutive Final Four appearance and the ACC regular season crown. The 20 wins matched the school record set in 2002, and four Terp players were selected in the first two rounds of the MLS draft, more than any other team in the nation.

2004: The Terps continued to make their mark on the national scene, advancing to the College Cup for the third straight season and posting a 17-6-2 record. He helped mentor two Hermann Trophy semifinalists in forwards Abe Thompson and Jason Garey as Maryland set the school record for goals in a season with 62.

2005: Cirovski led Maryland to the national championship, the second in school history, with a 1-0 win against New Mexico in the title game. Senior Jason Garey, who left the school as the all-time leader in goals and points, was the school's first recipient of the Hermann Trophy, awarded to the nation's best player. He was selected third overall in the MLS SuperDraft.

2006: Despite losing five starters from the 2005 national championship team, the Terps remained a fixture on the national scene and finished the season with a 16-5-1 record and advanced to the Sweet 16 of the NCAA Tournament. Maryland saw unprecedented success in the MLS SuperDraft as Maurice Edu and Chris Seitz were taken No. 1 and No. 4 overall, respectively.

Achieving a level of excellence again at Maryland, Cirovski has added the respect of more people than ever for the Terrapins. He has combined an unparalleled ability to motivate and teach with exceptional mastery of technique to become one of the most talented and versatile soccer coaches in the nation. And whether it's on the field or in the classroom, Cirovski's student-athletes give it all they've got, and it shows.

In addition to the accomplishments of his 15-year coaching career with the Terps, Cirovski was also a standout student-athlete himself. He began his career at Wisconsin-Milwaukee where he was a four-year letterwinner. As a senior, he won the Herman Kluge Award for Male Athlete of the Year, and, in 1998, he was inducted into the UWM Athletic Hall of Fame. He earned his bachelor's degree in 1985 and his master's in 1989. He then spent parts of three seasons as a professional player and coach with the teams in the Canadian Soccer League, and the National Professional Soccer League. His first taste of coaching came in 1987 in the Canadian Soccer League.

Cirovski is entering his 17th year of coaching overall, and holds an "A" coaching license from the U.S. Soccer Federation, as well as an Advanced National Diploma from the National Soccer Coaches Association of America. During the summer of 1997, he served as the assistant coach of the JVC U-17 World Youth Championship team, which played against Argentina, Uruguay, Egypt and two domestic camps. The team competed at the U-17 World Cup Championship in Egypt held in September of 1997. Cirovski also worked as an assistant coach for the U.S. U-20 National Team.

Cirovski's wife, the former Shannon Higgins, played collegiate soccer at North Carolina and entered the National Soccer Hall of Fame in the fall of 2002. The couple has three daughters, 13-year-old Hailey, Karli, who turned 11 in August, and Ellie, who turned five on July 15.

ROB VARTUGHIAN
ASSISTANT COACH
ST. BONAVENTURE, '00
FIFTH SEASON

In his four seasons with the Terps, Rob Vartughian has known nothing but success at the University of Maryland with four-straight NCAA appearances, three-consecutive College Cups, and the 2005 NCAA title. Beginning his fifth season as an assistant coach, Vartughian works primarily with the goalkeepers, but is also heavily involved in all aspects of the program.

Vartughian helped the progression of goalkeeper Chris Seitz, as Seitz became the first freshman to lead his team to an NCAA title since Brad Friedel did it in 1990. Seitz was the Defensive MVP at the College Cup, as well as being named to the All-ACC second team and numerous Freshman All-America teams.

In 2006, Vartughian mentored Seitz to even more honors as he was a Soccer America MVP, ACC Defensive Player of the Year, and an NSCAA All-American. Seitz, who holds the Maryland record with a 0.77 career goals-against average, was drafted No. 4 overall in the MLS SuperDraft by Real Salt Lake.

In each of his four seasons with the Terps, Vartughian has helped Terp goalkeepers earn All-ACC honors in each of those seasons. Before Seitz, Vartughian guided Noah Palmer to one of the finest careers for a goalkeeper in Maryland history. Palmer recorded the lowest goals-against average in a season for a Terp goalkeeper in school history (0.56) and left Maryland with a school-record 34 career shutouts.

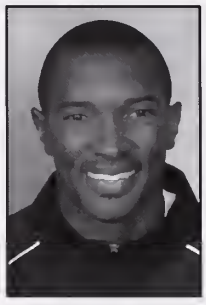
Vartughian, a B-license US Soccer Federation coach, is the current head coach for the Maryland Boys (1990s) ODP team that won the national championship in 2006. That team also won the the regional title in the summer of 2006. In the spring of 2007, Vartughian served as the goalkeeper coach for the United States U-23 squad that played against the Japanese U-23 team in Japan.

A collegiate keeper for St. Bonaventure from 1996-99 and then for Wake Forest in 2000, Vartughian came to College Park after spending two years as an assistant coach for Penn. While at Penn, he acted as both the men's and women's goalkeeping instructor, where his keepers earned All-American and Ivy League Player of the Year accolades, while both men's and women's teams went on to Ivy League titles in 2001 and 2002.

Vartughian was a Bonnie from 1996-99 and graduated in 2000 with a bachelor of science in accounting and finance before heading to Wake Forest to begin graduate work in education. During his time at St. Bonaventure, he set the Bonnie record for shutouts in a single season and career goals-against average. He finished his career as the starting goalkeeper at Wake Forest where he made 72 saves on the year.

Vartughian's playing career extended past college taking him to the Philadelphia Kixx of the Major Indoor Soccer League and both the Hampton Roads Mariners and Charleston Battery of the A-League teams. He spent 2001 with the South Jersey Barons Division III United Soccer League team. His other coaching experience includes being the director of goalkeeper training at the Elite 300 Soccer Academy.

Vartughian and his wife, Jessica, were married on May 12, 2007 and reside in Bowie.



RUSSELL PAYNE
ASSISTANT COACH
MARYLAND, '98
FOURTH SEASON

Former Terrapin standout Russell Payne is in his fourth season as an assistant coach in College Park. Payne, who was Sasho Cirovski's first blue-chip recruit and was a four-year starter in goal for the Terrapins, is back coaching at his alma mater after spending several seasons playing and coaching in Europe.

In his four seasons on the sideline with the Terps, Payne has helped lead Maryland to a 51-15-4 record, the ACC regular season title in 2005 and its first NCAA title since 1968. During his four years in College Park, Payne has coached the Terps to an NCAA appearance each season while mentoring 12 All-ACC selections and six MLS SuperDraft picks, including No. 1 overall selections Leo Cullen and Maurice Edu.

Payne, a coach with the Maryland ODP 1993 team, served as an assistant coach with the U-20 national team in its preparation for the FIFA U-20 World Cup in Canada in 2007. On that team, Payne coached recent Maryland standouts Chris Seitz (Real Salt Lake, MLS) and Robbie Rogers (Columbus, MLS). In the summer of 2006, Payne served as an assistant coach for the U.S. U-20 team that played in the Milk Cup in Ireland and finished second.

Payne, a B-license US Soccer Federation coach, came to Maryland after playing professionally with the Shamrock Rovers (Ireland) and SV Elversberg Football Club (Germany). With the Rovers, Payne was the 2001 Goalkeeper of the Year in the Irish Premier League. Prior to that, the Columbia, Md., native spent three seasons as the goalkeeper coach for the SV Elversberg U-16 team. From 2000-01, he played for Derry City (Northern Ireland) and also served as its U-18 goalkeeper coach.

Payne, who also spent time with Major League Soccer's Colorado Rapids and Metrostars, coached collegiately at George Washington in 1997-98 as the goalkeeper coach under Shannon Higgins-Cirovski and as a graduate assistant goalkeeper coach with the Terp men in 1997.

A four-year starter for the Terps (1993-96), Payne was an All-ACC selection as a sophomore and led the Atlantic Coast Conference in goals-against average as a senior with a 0.88 mark. He recorded 22.5 shutouts during his four seasons and recorded 340 saves in his career in helping Maryland to three straight NCAA Tournament appearances. He also helped Maryland to its first-ever ACC Tournament championship in 1996.

Payne and his wife, Vanessa, reside in Washington, D.C.

SEASON OUTLOOK

The approach to the 2007 season for the Maryland Terrapins will be much like it was in 2006 as the Terps lost some of their most crucial components from last year's squad. Maryland lost six seniors from its 2005 national championship team and this time around, the Terps have lost the services of five starters from their successful 2006 squad.

"Like every season at Maryland, I expect us to be highly competitive and to be a team that is a contender in November and December," head coach Sasho Cirovski said. "There are some doubters out there about where we are going to be this year and that excites me. This is the first year in a while that we are not coming off a Final Four or a national championship. Though it was a remarkable finish last year to be the No. 5 seed, and we had a tough loss to Notre Dame in the Sweet 16, I feel like we have the mentality on this team to really maintain the high level that we have had over the years."

Graham Zusi

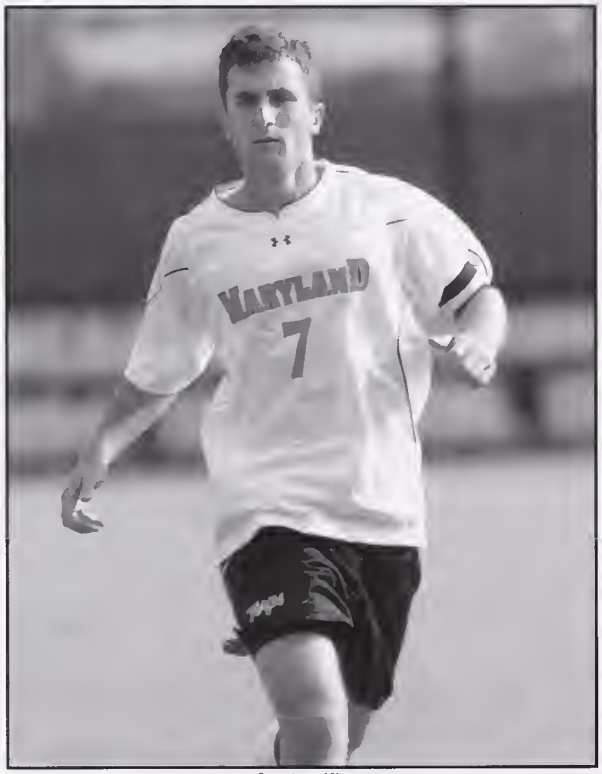
With the early losses of Maurice Edu and Chris Seitz, the graduation of A.J. Godbolt and David Glaudemans, and sophomore Jason Herrick who will miss the season to a knee injury, the Terps will have to rely on their depth to fill the gaps.

"We have Doug Rodkey and Kevin Tangney available again after missing last season," Cirovski said. "We have a very good recruiting class with kids that we know are going to come in and help this year. I think this is a group that is very tough mentally. I was saying that in the spring and they proved me right. I think that they are ready for the challenge even though a lot of people are saying this is going to be a down year for Maryland."

Maryland does return a strong core of experience and skill to the team, though, which should make up for its losses. The loss of Herrick to a summer knee injury affects the attack but the Terps return their three top scorers. Godbolt and Glaudemans were mainstays on the right side of the midfield and defense, respectively, but both spent time on the bench due to injury and junior Rich Costanzo filled in nicely.

The Terps have a good crop of talent to choose from to fill Edu's spot at defensive midfield and Cirovski has brought in two talented keepers, along with Aaron Chinn who has gained a lot of experience in the spring, to be the stopper between the pipes.

The goal for Maryland has always been to be playing its best come November and December, and with the surprising success of last year's squad that advanced to the Sweet 16, Cirovski will look to do the exact same with the 2007 Terps.



Stephen King

FORWARD

The Terps return their top three scorers from the 2006 season, including junior Graham Zusi who had a breakout season with 11 goals and seven assists, both tops on the team. Zusi established himself as one of the most dangerous strikers in the ACC with his deceptive speed and nose for the goal.

Sophomore Jeremy Hall will have to step up in the attack in 2007. The exciting Tampa, Fla., native scored seven times and assisted on three others in 2006 and with international exposure at the Pan Am Games over the summer, will bring his experience to the Maryland attack.

Senior Aki Kadotani brings his experience and skill in the box which could result in time on the attack, while talented freshman Billy Cortes could be used as well. Sophomore Omar Gonzalez, who played forward at the Pan Am Games and scored twice, can also be used at the forward slot. Newcomer Rahim Stennett provides another option for the Terp attack.

"I am going into the season with a very open mind on who is going to play different positions and how we, as a team, are going to play," Cirovski said. "The unfortunate injury to Herrick was unexpected, and it will change a little bit how we play. This is why I signed on for another preseason game to give our team three tune-ups instead of two so we can do a lot of experimenting."

MIDFIELD

Despite losing starters Edu and Godbolt to the professional ranks, the Terps midfield is probably the deepest spot on the pitch. Senior tri-captain Stephen King, an All-ACC and All-South Region honoree as well as a member of the MAC Hermann Trophy Watch List, will command the middle of the field.

Much like 2005, King quietly racked up six goals and tied with Zusi for the team lead with seven assists. King doesn't just bring his offensive skill to the mix; his experience is unparalleled as he enters his second year as captain. He has not missed a game his entire career, playing in all 72 since he arrived on campus.

"King is a coach's dream," Cirovski said. "You can just let him do his thing because he is so responsible. He is a quiet kid but he knows how to change a game because he has such a great focus and a multitude of skill that you see on a consistent basis."

Costanzo, Hall and sophomore Drew Yates all spent considerable time in the midfield last season, but mostly in an attacking role. The biggest hole to fill on the field is at defensive midfield, but the Terps have many options to choose from.

Michael Marchiano

Stephen King

"We have three players that are going to compete for that position and we may play with two defensive midfielders this year," Cirovski said. "Michael Marchiano and Kevin Tangney played there a lot last spring and they are both capable of playing that position. We have a very talented freshman in Yannick Salmon who is also going to compete for the defensive midfielder position. I feel like all three are very good players and we may have two of them share that position depending on how we play."

The Terps also regain the services of the talented Rodkey, who missed 2006 due to an injury, while Tyler Mishalow, Kwame Darko, and Rodney Wallace will all add even more depth to the strong midfield.

DEFENSE

Maryland returns three starters to the back line that allowed just 16 goals in 2006, the fewest in a season since 2003. Senior tri-captain Spencer Allen anchored the defense at the right back position last season by starting every match. Junior A.J. Delagarza, who missed just one game, and sophomore Omar Gonzalez were also mainstays on the defensive side of the field for the Terps. Costanzo could also see time on defense as he filled in nicely at right back late in the season for an injured Glaudemans.

"Last year we had a lot of trouble with the back line and had some growing pains, but I thought at the end of the year they really came together and were a very good unit," Cirovski said. "We have the entire group back and now we are also bringing in some additional players to be more competitive. Kevin Tangney is back in the picture, so we have more players competing in the back then we were last year. I think that is going to be a strength of our team."

In addition to Tangney, newcomers Sean Flatley and Greg Young, a transfer from Siena who started 10 games on defense, will add even more depth to the back.

Jeremy Hall

GOALKEEPER

The biggest question mark entering the season is between the pipes with the loss of Chris Seitz to the MLS. Seitz, one of the most talented keepers to ever come through Maryland, left as the all-time leader in career goals against average.

"Will Swaim has had a very good spring with his club team and he is training really hard this summer," Cirovski said. "Thorne Holder is an experienced guy, a little bit older and extremely athletic. Also, Aaron Chinn has been our spring goalkeeper for the past two years and has seen some great competition. The ground is wide open in preseason for the goalkeepers and our biggest challenge is going to be which player will be our number one."

Holder, who is from Trinidad & Tobago, is the starting keeper for the U-23 Olympic pool for his country. Swaim was a first team All-County and second team All-State keeper from Ellicott City.

SCHEDULE

Once again, Cirovski has scheduled one of the toughest slates in the country to prepare his team for the postseason. The Terps start out at Indiana for the adidas/IU Credit Union Classic to take on the Hoosiers and Notre Dame, which both finished in the top 10 in the final NSCAA/adidas poll last year.

Maryland opens its home schedule with last season's biggest surprise, West Virginia, which finished the season at No. 18, before taking on George Mason which advanced to the NCAA Tournament last season.

The Terps open their ACC schedule on September 15 at Boston College before returning home to take on Old Dominion, which finished at No. 14 in the rankings last season.

The most crucial two-game stretch may come on

Aki Kadotani

September 22 and 29 when Maryland travels to Duke and Wake Forest for a pair of important ACC match ups on the road.

The Terps then come home to Ludwig Field for nine-straight home games spanning from October 2 to November 3 before finishing up the regular season at North Carolina on November 9.

"I can't imagine anyone having the month of September tougher than we have it," Cirovski said. "On top of this, we have an inexperienced goalkeeper and Jason Herrick, one of our leading goal scorers, out for the year. We are going to have our challenges and have a lot of obstacles coming in September, but I expect this team to learn quickly, to adjust, and come out of there as a stronger, more resilient team."

The ACC Tournament will be played November 13-18 in Cary, N.C. which is also the home of the 2007 College Cup. The NCAA Tournament starts on November 23 and concludes on December 14-16 at the SAS Soccer Stadium.

2006 SEASON REVIEW

• Despite losing six seniors from the 2005 national championship team, including Hermann Trophy winner Jason Garey, the Terrapins returned to the NCAA Tournament and advanced to the Sweet 16, where they lost a 1-0 double overtime heartbreaker to Notre Dame.
• The Terps defeated St. John's, 2-0, in the second round match-up at Ludwig Field after earning a No. 5 seed and a first round bye.
• Maryland finished the season with a 16-5-1 record.
• Maryland faced 10 ranked opponents in 2006 and came away with a 5-4-1 record in those matches.
• Maurice Edu and Chris Seitz racked up awards in 2006 as Edu was an NSCAA first team All-American while Seitz was placed on the third team. Seitz was also named a Soccer America MVP and was the ACC Defensive Player of the Year.
• The two All-ACC selections then made history during the MLS SuperDraft as Edu was picked first overall by expansion team Toronto FC and Seitz was taken fourth by Real Salt Lake.
• It marked just the fourth time in MLS SuperDraft history that two student-athletes from the same school were selected in the top five and the first time that happened in Maryland history.
• Edu was the Terps' second top pick in the draft as Leo Cullen was taken No. 1 by Miami in 1998. Edu was the fifth Maryland student-athlete taken No. 1 overall in any draft.
• Seitz set the Maryland record for goals-against average in a career as he allowed just 0.77 goals per game in two seasons.
• A.J. Godbolt, who finished his Maryland career in sixth on the career assists list with 23, was taken in the MLS Supplemental Draft by the Kansas City Wizards.

Maurice Edu

• Soccer fans came out in record numbers in 2006 to watch the Terps in College Park. Last year, a new program record of 40,907 spectators stormed Ludwig Field which was second in the nation. Maryland's 2,727 average crowd ranked third in the country.
• A Ludwig Field record crowd of 6,489 came out to watch the Terps defeat ACC rival Duke on September 29, 1-0, in front of an international audience on Fox Soccer Channel.
• Two other audiences in 2006 cracked the all-time top five attendance numbers at Ludwig Field. A crowd of 6,214 came out to watch Boston College in its first ever match in College Park which ranks second and NC State drew 4,565 which is fifth.
• The Terps posted a 13-2-0 record at Ludwig Field in 2006.
• Sasho Cirovski won his 200th game at Maryland with a 4-1 win against Bucknell on October 24. He is just the second head coach at Maryland to reach that milestone as Doyle Royal won 217 matches at the helm in 28 seasons.
• The Terps assisted on all but seven goals last season, four of which were penalty kicks. Graham Zusi scored Maryland's first and last goals of the season, both unassisted scores.
• Maryland's defense, which returns three starters from last year, only surrendered 16 goals in 2006 which was the least since the 2003 season when the Terps gave up 14.
• The Terps posted nine shutouts last year with a three-game stretch of not allowing a goal from September 13-20.
• Maryland went 16-0-0 when it scored the first goal in a match in 2006. The Terps outscored opponents 21-7 in the first 45 minutes.
• The Terps have not lost a match when they score the first goal since October 2, 2004, a total of 40-straight matches when they strike first.

NORFOLK, Va.. — The No. 1 Maryland men's soccer team opened its 2006 season with a 2-0 victory against No. 23 Old Dominion on August 25 at the Old Dominion Soccer Stadium. Sophomore Graham Zusi and junior Stephen King tallied the goals for the Terps who won their seventh straight home opener.

Maryland owns a 29-2 goal advantage in its openers since 2000. That stretch includes five consecutive shutouts with the win tonight.

Zusi struck early in the match when he intercepted a Monarch pass in front of the box and lifted a shot over the keeper in the third minute. King capitalized on another Old Dominion miscue when he converted a penalty kick at the 41:13 mark in the first half to give the Terps the 2-0 advantage.

vs. Binghamton

COLLEGE PARK, Md. -- After a scoreless first half, the No. 1 Maryland men's soccer team exploded for three goals in the first 21 minutes of the second half to earn a 3-0 win against Binghamton in front of 3,486 fans at Ludwig Field on August 27. Sophomore Rich Costanzo tallied the match's first goal just 30 seconds into the second frame to push the Terps to victory. Junior Stephen King had a goal and an assist in the match and senior A.J. Godbolt recorded a pair of assists.

The Terps' first quality chance came in the 39th minute when King used some trickery on a free kick, quickly turning and firing a blast that just missed to the right. One of Maryland's best chances came with 30 seconds to go in the half when freshmen Drew Yates and Jeremy Hall converged on a ball in the box, but the Bearcat defense held strong and took a scoreless tie into the locker rooms.

Just seconds into the second half, Hall dribbled down the right side and found King, who fired a shot at Bertoni. The Binghamton keeper made the save but the ball landed on the foot of Costanzo on the left side of the box, who drilled the back of the net for his first goal in a Terps uniform. Ten minutes later, Godbolt split a pair of Binghamton defenders down the right side and sent a cross into the box that freshman Jason Herrick headed in to put the Terps up 2-0. In the 67th minute, Godbolt took a free kick on the right side after a Binghamton foul. Freshman Omar Gonzalez got a head on the ball which bounced to King in front of the box. King blasted a shot from about 22 yards out that beat the keeper for Maryland's final goal of the match.

Sept. 2, 2006
vs. Binghamton
1-4

COLLEGE PARK, Md. — The top-ranked Terps used four different goal scorers to defeat No. 10 UCLA, 4-1, on September 2 at Ludwig Field. Freshman Jason Herrick, junior Stephen King, freshman Jeremy Hall, and sophomore Graham Zusi all recorded a goal in the win. Despite the inclement weather due to the remnants of Ernesto, 4,020 fans watched the match, which is the fifth-largest crowd in Ludwig history.

King added two assists in the match and now has three goals and three assists in the Terps first three matches. Herrick recorded his first career assist to go along with his first goal and Hall's goal was also his first in a Maryland uniform. Senior David Glaudemans and freshman Drew Yates also had assists in the match.

Maryland came out after the beginning whistle and controlled most of the first half. After a few chances that just missed, the Terps took advantage of an open field when King served a through ball in front of the box to Herrick who beat his man and knocked a shot past the keeper for a 1-0 advantage.

Herrick returned the favor about four minutes later when he delivered a cross from the right side to King in the box who nailed it past the Bruins goalkeeper for the match's second tally. The Terps would take that 2-0 lead into the locker room at halftime.

For the third time this season, the Terps scored in the opening three minutes of a half. This time, UCLA tried to clear a Maryland corner, but King picked up the ball and found Hall on the right side of the box. Hall chested the ball and struck a shot on the volley to put the Terps up 3-0 in incredible fashion. The goal came at the 46:16 mark in the match.

There were limited chances for either team in the second half after the goal. In the 60th minute, UCLA got on the board when Sal Zizzo served a cross to Maxwell Griffin who put a diving header past the Terps defense for the Bruins only goal. It was the first goal this season that Maryland had allowed.

Fourteen minutes later, the Terps put the match away with their fourth goal. After a couple of passes from Glaudemans and Yates in the offensive third, Zusi ended up with the ball and an open lane to shoot about seven yards in front of the box. He blasted a shot over the UCLA keeper to seal the win.

Game 4
Sept. 4, 2006
vs. Louisville
1-2

COLLEGE PARK, Md. - ACC Player of the Week Stephen King had a goal and an assist as the No. 1 men's soccer team defeated Louisville, 2-1, on September 4 in front of 2,231 fans at Ludwig Field. Sophomore Graham Zusi scored a fantastic goal for the Terps and sophomore Rich Costanzo added an assist.

Maryland opened the first half with a couple of missed chances before striking the back of the net in the 11th minute. The Terps had possession in the offensive third as King brought the ball up. King tried to dish to Zusi in front of the box, but the ball was deflected and several players surrounded the loose ball. Zusi, who had been knocked to the ground, turned his body from right to left and knocked a shot from 18 yards out past the keeper into the right side netting of the goal.

The most important defensive play of the game came from senior David Glaudemans in the 18th minute. After a Maryland defender misplayed a ball, Louisville's Frank Jonke came away with a clear path to the goal along with two teammates on either side of him. As sophomore keeper Chris Seitz back peddled from the attack, Glaudemans hustled from the right side and tackled the ball away from an unsuspecting Jonke. The ball deflected to Seitz and the Terps kept the lead.

Maryland did not waste much time after that play to notch its second goal of the match in the 20th minute, which proved to be the game winner. Costanzo dribbled the ball down the left side looking for a cross. His ball was deflected by the Louisville defender on him, and rose into the air. The ball bounced in the box, but nobody tried to clear. King came out of the midfield and struck a shot past the keeper for his second game winner in as many matches.

The Cardinals got on the board when David Guzman found an open Ryan Meyer in front of the box in the 83rd minute. Meyer blasted a shot to the left side of the netting for the goal. The Cardinals got one more shot with 27 seconds left, but Seitz made his first and only save of the match to secure the win.

SEPT. 8, 2006
AT CLEMSON
1-2

CLEMSON, S.C. -- Freshman Jeremy Hall notched his second goal of the season and senior David Glaudemans got the assist but it was the No. 4 Clemson Tigers coming away with a 2-1 victory against the No. 1 Terps on September 8 in the ACC opener for both sides. The match was played in front of 6,821 fans, the second largest crowd in Riggs Field history.

Clemson struck first when Dane Richards dribbled down the right side of the field, spun around a defender, and found David Bell in the box. Bell sent a cross from right to left, and Frederico Moojen put a shot past the keeper for a 1-0 Tigers lead.

Richards continued to create offense the rest of the half and gave Clemson a couple of more good chances. With 20 minutes to go, Richards found himself with a clear lane to the goal before two Terp defenders closed in on him and broke up the play. In the next 10 minutes, he came up with two more opportunities, but could not connect on either one.

The Terps were able to tie the score in the 41st minute to take a 1-1 tie into the break. David Glaudemans dribbled the ball down the middle of the field and found Jeremy Hall in the box. Glaudemans lifted a pass to him, and with his back to the goal, Hall headed a shot to the left side of the goal to tie the match.

In the second half, A.J. Godbolt came up with a quick chance for Maryland when he sent a shot from the right side that nailed the cross bar just 45 seconds in. At the 31:35 mark in the half, sophomore keeper Chris Seitz made a huge save to keep the game tied. He knocked down a shot from his left with a sprawling save to the right. The rebound bounced around and the Tigers tried to take two more shots, but both were blocked before they reached Seitz. The threat ended when Seitz intercepted a cross in front of the net.

Clemson's Alan O'Hara was sent off with 29 minutes to go in the match, but Clemson was still able to record the game winner. With 16:02 left in the match, Richards took the ball to the left corner and delivered a cross into the box. Danny Poe found an open spot in the Terp defense and put a header into the right side of the goal.

Seitz was credited with two saves for the Terps while Phil Marfuggi stopped five shots for Clemson, which improves to 5-0-0 and 1-0-0 in the ACC.

VS. MOUNT ST. MARY'S

COLLEGE PARK, Md. -- Freshmen Jason Herrick and Jeremy Hall scored goals in the second half to lead the No. 6 men's soccer team to a 2-0 shutout of visiting Mount St. Mary's on September 13 at Ludwig Field. Herrick also recorded an assist in the match, as did senior A.J. Godbolt and sophomore A.J. Delagarza.

After a scoreless, first half, Maryland jumped on the board quickly after the half and for the fourth time this season, scored with less than three minutes gone off the clock. Godbolt dribbled down an open field on the right side and struck a cross to the far post. Herrick found an open space in the Mount defense and put a header past Murphy for what proved to be the game winner at 47:33.

In the 63rd minute, Hall put the game away with a shot to the left side of the goal that beat Murphy. After Delagarza and Herrick touched the ball, the passes reached Hall who notched the goal from about 18 yards out.

Murphy was credited with seven saves in a losing effort for the Mount, which falls to 2-2-1. Seitz stopped three shots to earn his third shutout of the season.

GAME 7
SEPT. 16, 2006
VS. NC STATE
0-3

COLLEGE PARK, Md. - The No. 6 men's soccer team used three different goal scorers and stellar defense to shutout NC State, 3-0, on September 16 in front of 4,565 fans at Ludwig Field. The Terps' back line allowed just four shots in the entire match, which all came in the second half.

Senior A.J. Godbolt started the scoring for the Terps when he knocked in a rebound off of a Stephen King penalty kick in the fifth minute. Sophomore Graham Zusi added his fourth goal of the year, as did freshman Jason Herrick who scored in fantastic fashion. Freshman Drew Yates was credited with a pair of assists in the win.

The 4,565 spectators at tonight's match was the third-highest total in Ludwig Field history. The only other two matches to exceed that number was a 2003 match against UCLA that drew 6,143 fans and last season's match against Indiana when 6,203 supporters came out to watch the Terps battle the Hoosiers.

The scoring began early when NC State's Matthew Lytle took down a Terp in the box. King settled in to take his second penalty kick of the season. He blasted a shot towards the lower right corner, but Wolfpack keeper Tom DeStefano guessed correctly and made the stop. The ball stayed in play and Godbolt came flying from the back and pushed the rebound under DeStefano for the Terps' first score.

In the 38th minute, Zusi handled the ball down the middle of the field and found Yates to his left. Zusi fed him, and Yates gave it back to Zusi who scored on a blast to the left side. The Terps would take the 2-0 lead into the locker room at halftime.

In the second half, the Wolfpack finally got its first shot in the 48th minute, but it was easily handled by sophomore keeper Chris Seitz.

The Terps came back with a few quality chances before finally knocking in its third and final goal in the 80th minute. After receiving a pass from Yates, Herrick touched the ball a couple of times and decided to take aim at the goal from about 30 yards out. His shot curled into the top left corner of the net past a diving DeStefano, who could not stop the perfectly placed shot.

The Wolfpack's best chance came with a minute and a half left when a cross was sent on the ground from right to left. A member from both sides slid to try and reach the pass, but the cross skipped to the other side of the field.

GAME 8
SEPT. 20, 2006
VS. PENN STATE
0-2

COLLEGE PARK, Md. - The No. 6 men's soccer team earned its third shutout in a row by defeating Penn State, 2-0, on September 20 in front of 2,323 fans at Ludwig Field. The Terps extended their shutout streak to 286:02 while getting goals from sophomore Graham Zusi and freshman Jason Herrick.

For both goal scorers, it was their team-leading fifth goal of the season. Zusi also assisted on Herrick's score. Freshman Jeremy Hall assisted on both goals and sophomore keeper Chris Seitz earned his fifth shutout of the season after making two saves.

Maryland took control of the match early, connecting on its first chance in the fourth minute. Zusi made a run down the right side of the field and from the middle of the pitch, Hall dished off to him in open space. With a clear lane to the goal, Zusi blasted a shot from 25 yards out that nailed the left side netting. The keeper could only watch the brilliant goal fly by.

The Nittany Lions' first chance came at the 36:37 point in the half when Simon Omekanda delivered a dangerous cross from right to left. The ball skipped across the box before Seitz came out and pounced on the ball, ending the attack.

The Terps put the game away with another goal in the 40th minute. Zusi and Hall found Herrick on the left side of the field. With a man on him, Herrick cut to the middle of the field and found open space. He then took aim at the right side of the goal and put a shot past Conrad Taylor for the 2-0 cushion.

Penn State had one more opportunity before the halftime whistle when Stephen Reihner fired a shot towards the goal, but it ended up being blocked by the Terp defense.

Ten minutes into the second half, the Terps had a great chance to add another goal but came up just short. Herrick dribbled around a couple of defenders in the box and found the PSU keeper indecisive on whether to come out or not. Herrick scrambled to find an open shot but eventually dished off to junior Stephen King. King fired a shot down the middle, but it was blocked before reaching the goal. The rebound ended up on Hall's foot who shot again, but Taylor came up with a big save to keep PSU in the match.

Game 9
Sept. 23, 2006
at Wake Forest
2-1

WINSTON-SALEM, N.C. - Freshman Jeremy Hall and sophomore Graham Zusi scored a pair of late goals for No. 6 Maryland to lead the Terps to a 2-1 come-from-behind win against No. 7 Wake Forest on September 23. Hall scored in the 79th minute and Zusi connected on a penalty kick in the 85th to lead the Terps to victory. The match was played in front of a Spry Stadium record crowd of 4,413 spectators.

Juniors Stephen King and Maurice Edu were credited with the assist on Hall's equalizer. Hall's goal was the fourth of the season and it was the sixth for Zusi. The Terps improve to 8-1-0 with the win and 2-1-0 in the ACC.

Wake Forest converted on its second chance of the game when Mike Lahoud made a move around a defender and sent a through ball on the right side to Marcus Tracy. Tracy took Seitz one-on-one and sent a shot to the lower left corner of the goal to put the Demon Deacons up 1-0 in the third minute.

Maryland came out with a different attitude in the second half with fierce defending and quality chances. The Terps first dangerous opportunity came at the 28:20 mark when Zusi dribbled the ball down the middle of the pitch. Zusi dished off to freshman Drew Yates making a run down the left side and Yates took the ball into the box and fired to the lower left corner, but Brian Edwards made the save on a diving attempt.

With 12:30 remaining in regulation, Seitz came up big for the Terps when he made a diving save to his right. The rebound spilled in front of him and a Wake player tried to knock the rebound home but Seitz was able to fight him off to keep the Terps in the match.

Less then a minute after Seitz's save, King found Edu in the middle of the field who then sent a long pass to Hall who had plenty of open space in front of him. Hall took the ball and went one-on-one with Edwards and calmly sent a low shot to the right side that beat the keeper for the equalizer in the 79th minute.

With less than six minutes to go, senior David Glaudemans found Hall again in the offensive third. Hall tried to take the ball the rest of the way with a defender on him. The two reached the box, and Hall was taken down trying to get by the defender. Zusi stepped into the box to take the penalty kick and he beat Edwards, who guessed correctly, to the upper left hand corner.

Sept. 26, 2006
vs. Loyola
0-1

COLLEGE PARK, Md. – Junior Maurice Edu headed home his first goal of the season en route to No. 3 Maryland's 1-0 victory against Loyola on September 26 at Ludwig Field. The Terps dominated play the entire 90 minutes as the Greyhounds were unable to record a shot against the defense. Sophomore Graham Zusi and freshman Drew Yates both assisted on Edu's game winner.

Loyola set the tone of the match early with a multitude of fouls in the early going and it never waned as the Greyhounds racked up 28 fouls and eight yellow cards in trying to slow down the Terps' attack.

The entire match was filled with quality chances for the Terps to score. Junior Stephen King got things going in the 11th minute when some nifty passing led to him having the ball in the box with a clear lane to shoot. King took aim at the right side, but missed wide.

Maryland's best chance in the first half came off of a Zusi corner kick. He bended the corner into the box to an awaiting Omar Gonzalez, who was able to get a head on the ball with a man on him. The shot sailed to the right and hit the post, then dribbled out of bounds to thwart any chance of a score. The Terps had a few more dangerous opportunities to score in the first half, but the teams went into halftime tied 0-0.

Maryland got on the attack early again at the 38:39 point in the second half when Hall ended up with a loose ball on the right side of the box and Kocic well out of position. Hall fired a low shot that a Loyola defender deflected away to keep the Terps off the scoreboard.

Not long after, Zusi took the ball down the right side of the pitch and delivered a long cross into the box. The pass found Yates on the left side of the box, who decided to head the cross towards the middle. Edu, who was making a run down the center, took the ball out of the air and headed home a shot into the right side to give the Terps the 1-0 edge in the 61st minute.

Game 11
Sept. 29, 2006
vs. Duke
0-1

COLLEGE PARK, Md. – For the second-straight match, junior Maurice Edu notched the only goal of the game with a header in the box as the No. 3 men's soccer team defeated No. 14 Duke, 1-0, on September 29 at Ludwig Field. A record crowd of 6,489 fans came out and provided an electric atmosphere for a match televised by Fox Soccer Channel.

Prior to the match, fireworks during the national anthem and before player introductions got the crowd going but it was Duke who controlled the first 10 minutes of the match with a lot of possession, trying to quiet the fans. The Terps broke through though just a little over four minutes in when junior Spencer Allen sent a beautiful through ball to classmate Stephen King, but his shot attempt was blocked by the last Duke defender.

In almost the same fashion as the game-winner against Loyola on Tuesday night, Zusi stepped to the ball and delivered a beautiful pass into the box. Edu, who was about 10 yards out in the middle of the box, got a head on the ball that got past Justin Papadakis to give the Terps the 1-0 lead.

After the goal, the momentum shifted towards the Terps who controlled the ball and spent most of the time in the offensive half of the field.

The Blue Devils put a scare into the Terps, however, when a free kick was sent into the box with eight minutes to go. Two Duke players converged on the ball along with Seitz who was trying to thwart the attack. Seitz grabbed a hold of the pass, but lost it when he bumped into a Blue Devil. The ball bounced right to a Terp defender, however, who headed it into the safety of Seitz's hands.

The second half mostly belonged to the Terps, who held onto the lead and almost added to it a couple of times. Just a minute and a half in, sophomore A.J. Delagarza sent a long pass to Hall on the left side who fired a shot that was saved again. The rebound landed on Zusi's foot, but his shot was blocked.

The last 30 seconds of the match were intense with the ball in Duke's possession in the offensive third. After Maryland committed a foul on the right side, a pass was sent into the box and knocked down. Players from both teams scrambled after the loose ball. Duke tried to fire a couple of shots, but all of their attempts were blocked before going anywhere. Eventually, the Terps were able to clear the danger to hang on to the win.

Seitz was credited with three saves in the win and Papadakis stopped four shots for the Blue Devils, who fall to 7-2-1 and 2-1-1 in the conference.

AT NORTH CAROLINA

CHAPEL HILL, N.C. – The No. 2 men's soccer team scored the equalizer in the 68th minute to force a 1-1 draw with No. 6 North Carolina on October 6 in front of 3,581 fans at Fetzer Field. It was third-largest crown in UNC history. Junior Stephen King scored the goal for the Terps with sophomore Graham Zusi adding another assist. Sophomore keeper Chris Seitz saved a penalty kick with 21 minutes left in the match to secure the tie.

The Terps gave up an early goal in the seventh minute but were able to come away with the draw. Seitz made four saves for Maryland, which now stands at 10-1-1. The Tar Heels now have a record of 10-2-2 with their second-straight tie.

North Carolina got on the board early in the match in the seventh minute. Corey Ashe found Bill Dworsky on a throw in on the right side of the field. The Terps' defense collapsed on Dworsky, so he found a wide open Ben Hunter to his left who fired a shot from 22 yards out that beat Seitz to his right.

The beginning of the second half was filled with a lot of play in the midfield. The Tar Heels got the first quality chance of the half when Michael Callahan took a shot at Seitz, but he made a relatively easy stop on the ground.

King finally found some good luck with the equalizer midway through the half. At the 22:41 mark following a Maryland corner, the Terps looked for a cross and Zusi found one that reached King at the top of the box. King blasted a shot to the right side that beat Hughes to deadlock the match 1-1.

Just over a minute later with 21:03 on the clock, Dworski was making a run towards goal with nobody in front of him. A Terp defender committed a foul from behind and the Heels were awarded a penalty kick, the first of the season for an opponent. Ted Odgers elected to take the penalty kick and aimed lower left. Seitz came up huge for the Terps to keep the game tied as he made the diving save and did not allow a rebound.

AT VIRGINIA

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va. – The No. 2 men's soccer team lost its final ACC road match of the season, 3-0, to No. 4 Virginia on October 11 at Klockner Stadium. The Terps (10-2-1, 3-2-1 ACC) surrendered two first half goals a little over three minutes apart in the 29th and 32nd minutes. Sophomore Yannick Reyering assisted on the first goal and scored the second for the Cavaliers (12-2-0, 4-2-0 ACC) and junior Nico Colaluca had two assists.

Things started to turn towards the Wahoos way with under 18 minutes to go when a pass was sent into the box and another UVA player headed a ball deeper into the attack. The pass barely slipped by the foot of an attacker who tried flicking a shot into the goal.

In the 29th minute, Colaluca sent an in-swinger on a corner to Reyering. Reyering and a Terp defender both went after the ball in the air and the ball deflected to Jonathon Villanueva who slipped a shot into the left side of the net for UVA's first goal of the half.

A little over two minutes later, Maryland tried to put the equalizer on the board when a King cross was headed out by the Cavalier defense. The clear landed on sophomore Graham Zusi's foot and he took aim at the left side of the net, but his shot was handled by Burke.

Later in the 32nd minute, UVA was in their offensive third when a ball came loose in front of the box. Reyering and a Terp defender converged on the ball simultaneously at the 18, with Reyering powering through to win the ball. He then found himself with a clear lane to shoot and fired a shot to the left side that hit the back of the net.

In the second half, the Terps came out and had the first chance when junior Maurice Edu tried to connect on a diving header in the box. His attempt went wide to the left.

The Cavaliers scored its final goal of the match when Colaluca sent a pass from right to left to a wide open Adam Cristman in front of the box. Cristman took the pass and nailed the twine on the left side.

VS. BOSTON COLLEGE

COLLEGE PARK, Md. – Junior Charlie Davies scored Boston College's first two goals and assisted on the third as the Eagles defeated the No. 2 men's soccer team, 3-1, on October 14 at Ludwig Field. The second-largest crowd ever at Ludwig was on hand as 6,214 people came out. Sophomore Graham Zusi scored the lone goal for the Terps in the 38th minute.

It was the first time Maryland had lost at home in exactly two years. Its last setback came on October 14 of 2004 when Penn State won at Ludwig, 4-1. It was also the first-ever road win for BC in the Atlantic Coast Conference.

Boston College started the events in a quick way when they tallied the first goal in the third minute. Jamen Amato threw the ball into play, reaching the box from the left side. After Stephen Hepburn touched the ball, it bounced to Davies, who flicked a shot into the right side of the goal.

After the goal, the teams settled into plenty of midfield play before Maryland got its first quality chance of the evening. At the 22:19 mark, freshman Jason Herrick fed Zusi in front of the box from the right side and Zusi gave it back to him. Herrick fired a low shot to the left side from 20 yards out, but his attempt skipped just wide.

Zusi was again in on the action as he delivered a pass into the box from the left side with less than nine minutes left in the half. His ball found junior Stephen King a few yards away from the goal, but his shot was blocked. The official blew the play dead and called a handball on the Eagles, and the Terps were awarded a penalty kick. Zusi was selected to take the PK, and he executed with a goal to the left side, tying the game heading into the half.

The turning point of the match may have come 6:43 into the second half when Davies found himself on a breakaway with only sophomore keeper Chris Seitz in front of him to stop the attack. Seitz came charging at Davies and dove, deflecting the ball away and tripping up Davies in the process. The referee handed Seitz a red card for the effort and the Eagles were given a penalty kick opportunity.

Freshman keeper Josh Mikulewicz came in goal for the Terps, but Davies delivered the free shot to the lower right corner for the goal.

The Terps had their chance to equalize again when they were awarded a second penalty kick with 27:54 left on the clock. Herrick was making a run on the left side of the box and BC keeper Chris Brown came out to try and stop the attack. Herrick and Brown both slid for the ball, a foul was called, and Maryland got its chance.

This time, King was selected to take the penalty kick and went lower left. His attempt was saved by Brown to protect the lead.

Just over two minutes later, Davies started a counterattack from the Terps' offensive half of the field. He delivered a pass to Ryan Sherman on the right side and he had Mor Avi Hanan with him on the left with only one defender between them. Sherman dished to Hanan, who went one-on-one with Mikulewicz, and sent a shot to the left side that reached the back of the net.

COLLEGE PARK, Md. – For the third time this season, junior Maurice Edu put a header into the back of the net in a 1-0 match and this time it beat Hartwick on October 19 at Ludwig Field. Sophomore Graham Zusi delivered the corner that led to the goal and he has assisted on all three of Edu's goals.

After a scoreless, firts hald, Maryland finally converted on an opportunity in the 60th minute. Godbolt took a free kick a little over midfield on the right side after a Hartwick foul. His pass flew into the box, but Gibson punched the ball over the end line to give the Terps a corner kick. Zusi stepped to the ball and delivered the in-swinger that found Edu. Edu redirected the pass to the right side netting to give the Terps the 1-0 lead.

The Hawks had a couple of more good chances to equalize in the match, but failed to convert. With 22 minutes left on the clock, an attacker was taken down right outside of the box on the left side. Craig Potter was able to get a shot off the direct kick, but his attempt sailed wide.

With 3:27 left, Chris Greatwich found a crease on the left side of the box. Mikulewicz came out to try to stop the attack and Greatwick sent a shot to the right side. Mikulewicz dove to his left and made a sprawling save to keep the Maryland lead in tact.

VS. ALBANY
0-4

COLLEGE PARK, Md. – Sophomore Graham Zusi recorded a career-high five points on two goals and an assist to lead the No. 8 men's soccer team to a 4-0 win against Albany on October 22 at Ludwig Field. Freshman Jeremy Hall and junior Maurice Edu also tallied goals in the victory and sophomore Matt Beckman came up with his first assist of the season.

Both of Zusi's goals came in similar fashion as his first was on a direct kick and his second was on a penalty kick. He now has a team-best nine goals this year. Hall picked up his fifth goal of the season in the 27th minute and Edu and Zusi hooked up for the fourth time with every goal coming off the head of Edu.

Maryland came out firing on all cylinders after the opening whistle as they fired off four shots in the first eight minutes. After a couple of missed chances for the Terrapins, a player was brought down just outside of the box in the 23rd minute. Zusi stepped to the ball from 20 yards out and fired a shot that made it past the wall. Albany keeper Steward Ceus misjudged the strike and did not make an effort as Zusi's shot went into the back of the net.

The Terps kept attacking and 4:02 later, found the goal again. Beckman carried the ball down the right side of the field and delivered a cross to Hall making a run in the box. Hall had a defender on him and both went after the pass simultaneously. The ball bounced around, but Hall turned and found the ball at his foot. He took it and snuck a shot under Ceus to make the score 2-0.

The halftime break did not slow down the Terps' offense as they struck again in the 49th minute. Sophomore Rich Costanzo drew a hard foul on the right side just outside of the box. Zusi took the kick and sent it softly into the box to an awaiting Edu, who headed the ball past Ceus to make the cushion 3-0.

Nine minutes later, Maryland closed the book after Zusi converted on a penalty kick. Zusi drew the foul himself inside the box as he was making a run on the right side with nobody but Ceus in front of him. Ceus came out to try to stop the attack but tripped up Zusi, giving the Terps the PK opportunity.

VS. BUCKNELL

COLLEGE PARK, Md. – Three different players scored their first career goal as the No. 7 men's soccer team beat Bucknell, 4-1, on October 24 at Ludwig Field. The win was the 200th at Maryland for head coach Sasho Cirovski and he is just the second person in program history to reach that milestone. Senior Pat Wilson, junior Spencer Allen, and freshman Omar Gonzalez all notched their first career goals while freshman Jeremy Hall added his sixth of the season.

Cirovski joins Doyle Royal, Maryland's first and longest tenured head coach as the only two bosses to reach the 200-win plateau. They are also the coaches that brought the Terps' two national titles back to College Park. Royal had a 217-58-18 record in 28 years at the helm. Cirovski's record at Maryland is now 200-89-15 in his 14th season.

Gonzalez added his second assist of the season in the match as well. Junior Maurice Edu dished out a pair of assists and sophomore Graham Zusi added one.

The Terps got going early and often in the game as they scored three goals in the first 11 minutes of action. The first strike came just 1:53 after the opening whistle. Zusi took a free kick on the right side after a Bucknell foul, but his pass into the box was headed out by a Bison defender. The clear landed on Allen's foot on the left side, who perfectly placed a blast into the right side netting from 25 yards out.

Maryland would put the game away with a pair of goals less than three minutes apart. In the ninth minute, Gonzalez intercepted a bad pass by Bucknell and took it himself down the right side of the field. He handled the ball down to the end line and delivered a cross into the box at the last second. His pass found an unmarked Hall on the far side, who headed in a shot to put the Terrapins up 2-0.

In the 11th minute, the Terps struck again when Edu fired a shot at a wide open Bucknell net. The ball was deflected away before it reached the net, but the ball found Gonzalez in the box, who put home the rebound for Maryland's third goal of the half.

The Terps had two more very dangerous chances late in the half, but keeper Joey Kuterbach made two spectacular saves to keep Maryland from building on its lead.

Bucknell retaliated with a goal of its own in the 60th minute. Patrick Selwood sent a pass into a crowd in the box and Anthony Ferraro came up with it and put a shot into the back of the net.

Maryland responded, however, 1:27 after that to push its lead back to three. The Terrapins earned a corner kick, and Zusi sent the in-swinger that found Edu. Edu sent a header towards goal, but Kuterbach came up with the save. The shot deflected straight into the air, and Wilson met the ball at its highest point and sent in a header that beat the keeper as he was knocked to the ground.

VS. VIRGINIA TECH

COLLEGE PARK, Md. – Junior midfielder Stephen King notched a goal and an assist as the No. 7 men's soccer team defeated Virginia Tech, 2-1, on October 27 at a rain-soaked Ludwig Field on Senior Night. Sophomore keeper Chris Seitz stopped a career-high eight shots in the win.

Both sides were the recipient of quality chances before Maryland struck in the 25th minute. The Terrapins got on the board with 24:21 left in the half, as Godbolt started the attack with a cross that deflected off of a Hokies defender. The ball found Yates on the left side and he took his defender deep into the box. With him and the defender battling on the end line, he was able to send a pass to King to his right, and he tapped in a one-timer past keeper Drew Czekanski for the 1-0 lead.

Just over three minutes later, Hall dribbled down the right side and found a wide open King in the box with a cross. Instead of taking the shot from straight-on, King dished back to Edu a few yards behind him who blasted the game-winner past the keeper.

Virginia Tech did not let down in the second half, firing more shots at Seitz. The Hokies goal came in the 76th minute after a Maryland foul out in front of the box. With the ball positioned 25 yards out to the left, Ben Nason and Marcus Reed stood over the ball. Reed flicked the ball, setting up Nason for the shot, and he sent a blast to the left side of the goal to cut the deficit to one.

The momentum seemed to shift following the goal with the Hokies feverishly on the attack. Seitz and the Terps' defense maintained its stance and did not allow another goal. Their best chance came with 1:46 left in the match when Reed fired a shot that missed the target by feet to the right.

ACC QUARTERFINALS

BOYDS, Md. – Sophomore Graham Zusi redirected a Maurice Edu cross with his thighs and it hit the back of the net in the 104th minute to give the fourth-seeded men's soccer team a 1-0 dramatic win against fifth-seeded Boston College in the quarterfinals of the 2006 ACC Men's Soccer Championship.

In the Terps offensive third of the pitch, freshman Omar Gonzalez sent a throw-in into the box from the left side. Boston College tried to clear the ball, but it landed on the foot of Edu. Edu fired a cross through the box and Zusi, who was open in the box, redirected the pass into the net for the win.

Boston College came out after the opening whistle and controlled much of the first half. The Eagles first opportunity came with just six minutes expired when Stephen Hepburn took aim at an open net in the box. Junior Spencer Allen stepped in and made the save to thwart the threat.

The momentum shifted in the second half as Maryland held possession for most of the half. The first chance went to BC, however, when Charlie Davies tried to connect on a cross while sliding, but his shot went straight into the air and was saved by keeper Chris Seitz.

In the first overtime session, one opportunity presented itself and it was for Boston College. Davies found himself one-on-one with Seitz after a clearing attempt deflected off of a player. Seitz charged the attacking Davies, slid, and made the save on a low shot, forcing the second overtime.

Both teams earned a chance in the second session before Zusi struck the golden goal. Herrick tried his hand at the net with a shot that Brown saved, and then a minute later, Mor Avi Hanan had a chance but missed just right.

ACC QUARTERFINALS

BOYDS, Md. – The top-seeded Duke Blue Devils defeated fourth-seeded Maryland, 1-0, on November 3 in the semifinals of the 2006 ACC Men's Soccer Championship. Joe Germanese tallied the lone goal in the match in the 40th minute for Duke. The game was played in front of a Maryland SoccerPlex record crowd of 7,119.

Duke dominated the first half firing off 15 shots and allowing just two. With 8:15 expired from the starting whistle, the Blue Devils created a dangerous chance and took three shots in the Maryland box. Terp defenders blocked the first two attempts and then Seitz made a spectacular save to keep Duke off the board.

Maryland's first shot at goal came 15 minutes in off a corner kick. After sophomore Graham Zusi delivered the pass, the ball bounced around back to Zusi on the right side. He took aim at the goal but his shot sailed just wide to the left.

Duke finally connected in the 40th minute when Spencer Wadsworth dribbled down the right side of the pitch. He took the ball to the end line and delivered a cross into the far side of the box. Joe Germanese was open on the far side and sent a header to the lower right corner to put the Blue Devils up 1-0 at intermission.

The first real chance for either side in the second half came with 16:13 left in the match. Freshman Omar Gonzalez took a throw-in deep in the offensive third and delivered it into the box. The ball bounced around in front of the goal and freshman Jeremy Hall finally got a clean look at the net. He took the shot but it rolled just wide to the right.

NCAA SECOND ROUND

COLLEGE PARK, Md. – Sophomore Graham Zusi and freshman Jeremy Hall both scored as the No. 7 Terps shutout No. 9 St. John's, 2-0, in the second round of the NCAA Tournament on November 15 at Ludwig Field. Play began with both teams spending a bulk of the time in the midfield and the Red Storm came away with the first shot on goal. With 15 minutes expired, Ryan Soroka found an opening and fired a shot at the goal, but Seitz gobbled up the shot easily.

The first opportunity for the Terps presented itself with 23 minutes left in the half when Zusi was open from about 20 yards out in front of the box. With a clear lane to shoot, he fired, but his shot sailed harmlessly over the crossbar.

In the 26th minute, senior A.J. Godbolt sent a cross from the right side to the far post and found freshman Jason Herrick. Herrick distributed a low ball to the center of the box to an awaiting Hall, who easily beat the keeper to put the Terps up 1-0.

Twenty minutes into the second half the Terrapins almost struck again as Hall fired a hard shot on goal that was saved. The ball caromed straight into the air and was headed away. The ball bounced right to junior Stephen King, however, who sent a shot, but Rory Quinn stepped in front of the shot to make the save.

The second Terps goal came in the 57th minute when the St. John's keeper Landers tried to pass a ball to one of his defenders. Zusi stole the bad pass and made a move past Landers towards the center of the field. Two Red Storm defenders back-peddled towards the goal, but Zusi fired a high blast out of their reach to give the Terps the 2-0 lead.

NCAA SWEET 16

COLLEGE PARK, Md. – Joseph Lapira scored with 3:04 seconds left in the second overtime to lift No. 12 Notre Dame to a 1-0 victory against No. 7 Maryland in the third round of the NCAA Tournament on November 18 at Ludwig Field.

Lapira's goal was his 22nd of the season, tops in the country. Dale Rellas was credited with the assist on the game-winner. The goal came just 1:22 after junior Stephen King came inches away from recording the golden goal for the Terps as a blast he hit nailed the left post.

The first 20 minutes of the match belonged to the Terps, creating multiple dangerous chances that ended up being snuffed out by the Notre Dame back line. Just over two minutes into the match, King got the action started when he sent a blast from 25 yards out that ND keeper Chris Cahill deflected over the cross bar.

The Terrapins kept pressing on the offensive end and at the 29:41 mark, junior Maurice Edu sent a shot to the left side, but Cahill came up with another big save to keep Maryland off the board.

The Irish responded quickly on the counterattack after that save, and Lapira created a shot that went just high of the mark. Notre Dame began to get on the offensive from then on and with 18 minutes to go in the half, Nate Norman received a cross on the left side of the box. With nobody on him, he had a clear lane to shoot and aimed for the bottom right corner. Sophomore keeper Chris Seitz made the diving save to keep ND at bay.

Six minutes after the break, the Terps used some nifty teamwork and passing to create another dangerous chance on goal. Sophomore Graham Zusi found Herrick in the middle of the field and then Herrick set up senior A.J. Godbolt on the right side of the box. Godbolt sent a shot towards goal, but keeper Andrew Quinn, who replaced the injured Cahill, came up with the save.

The first overtime session was a back and forth affair with the Irish getting the only real chance of the first 10 minutes. Kurt Martin sent a lob pass into Lapira in front of the box. Lapira had his man beat and only Seitz was in front of him and the goal. Seitz came up and challenged Lapira and he misfired. The ball sailed off the right side of his foot and out of play.

In the second overtime, Godbolt was able to get a shot on goal 2:30 into the session but it was saved by Quinn. King then sent a shot that hit the left post at the 105:34 mark, setting up Lapira for his heroics when he scored at 106:56.

THE UNIVERSITY OF MARYLAND

DEEP ROOTS, BROAD IMPACT

Charles Benedict Calvert founded the Maryland Agricultural College in 1856 with the goal of creating a school that would offer outstanding practical knowledge to him and his neighbors and be "an institution superior to any other."

One hundred and fifty years later, the University of Maryland has blossomed from its roots as the state's first agricultural college and one of America's original land grant institutions into a model of the modern research university. It is the state's greatest asset for its economic development and its future, and has made its mark in the nation and the world.

Calvert would be astounded by the depth and breadth of research activities, innovative educational programs, and the single-minded pursuit of excellence that are part of the University of Maryland today. Maryland is ranked 18th among the nation's top public research universities by U.S. News & World Report, with 31 academic programs in the Top 10 and 92 in the Top 25. It is also ranked No. 37th in the world, according to the Institute of Higher Education at at Shanghai's Jiao Tong University.

Maryland is the state's premier center of research and graduate education and the public institution of choice for undergraduate students of exceptional ability and promise. The faculty includes three Nobel laureates, six Pulitzer Prize winners, a three-time Emmy Award winner, 40 members of national academies and scores of Fulbright scholars. The university focuses great attention on the highest academic standards, affordability for all qualified students, and a President's Promise program that guarantees opportunity for extraordinary extracurricular and professional experiences for each student.

It has earned a national reputation for its enriched educational experiences for undergraduates, including such widely imitated living/learning programs as College Park Scholars; Gemstone, a unique program that brings teams of students together from across disciplines to tackle specific technical problems; and the Hinman CEO Entrepreneurship Program, sponsored jointly by the A. James Clark School of Engineering and the Robert H. Smith School of Business, and widely recognized as the most successful student entrepreneurship program in the nation.

These programs are guided by outstanding faculty whose accomplishments in research abound. Whether the issue is Mideast peace, cutting-edge research in nanoscience, homeland security or bioscience advances, Maryland faculty are selected for national leadership and are making news. Many recent major faculty initiatives receiving significant external support strengthen our homeland security endeavors—center for research on agrosecurity and emergency management; intermodal freight transportation security; behavioral and social analyses of terrorism and responses to terrorism; astrophysics and advanced world climate and weather prediction; and a national Center for Advanced Study of Language.

In addition to its academic prowess, Maryland is also home to the Terrapins, whose athletic achievements are a perennial source of pride for nearly 250,000 alumni and residents of the state. In 2005-2006, the Terrapins brought home national championships in four sports — men's soccer, field hockey, competitive cheer and women's basketball — more than any university in the nation.

In 2004, Maryland's School of Music hosted the National Symphony Orchestra in its first university residency, and its 2006 opera production was declared by the Washington Post music critic "... as good as any Bohème you are likely to see this side of the Metropolitan Opera or Covent Garden."

Whether aiming for the skies or pioneering journalism programs in China, the University of Maryland is surging ahead. Building on the work of outstanding faculty and students, and with the loyal support of alumni and friends, Maryland is moving aggressively and confidently to a decade that will shine brighter than any other in its history.

DR. C.D. MOTE

UNIVERSITY PRESIDENT
CALIFORNIA '59
NINTH YEAR

In September 1998, C. D. (Dan) Mote, Jr. began his tenure as President of the University of Maryland and Glenn L. Martin Institute Professor of Engineering. He was recruited to lead the University of Maryland to national eminence under a mandate by the state. Since assuming the presidency, he has encouraged an environment of excellence across the University and given new impetus to the momentum generated by a talented faculty and student body. Under his leadership, academic programs have flourished. In 2005, the University was ranked 18th among public research universities, up from 30th in 1998. President Mote has emphasized broad access to the university's model, enriched undergraduate curriculum programs and launched the Baltimore Incentive Awards Program to recruit and provide full support to high school students of outstanding potential who have overcome extraordinary adversity during their lives.

He has spurred the university to lead the state in the development of its high-tech economy, especially in the information and communication, bioscience and biotechnology, and nano-technology sectors. President Mote has greatly expanded the university's partnerships with corporate and federal laboratories and successfully negotiated to bring to the College Park area the first Science Research Park sponsored by the People's Republic of China. Under his leadership, the University has established a research park, The University of Maryland Enterprise Campus, M-Square, located on a 115-acre site adjacent to the University of Maryland/College Park Metro with 3 million square feet of development potential. Among its first tenants are the Center for Advanced Study of Language, a joint venture of the University and Department of Defense, and the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration's new World Weather and Climate Prediction Center.

During President Mote's second year in office, the University began the largest building boom in its history, with more than $100 million in new projects breaking ground that year. New facilities address every aspect of university life, from the arts to recreation to classrooms and laboratories, and, in creative partnership with the private sector, new residential facilities. Highlights of the construction activity include the stunning Clarice Smith Performing Arts Center; the Comcast Center, a state of the art sports complex; a high tech research greenhouse; and new classrooms for chemistry, computer science, business and engineering. President Mote also led the development of a new Facilities Master Plan for development in the next 20 years, which is noted for its emphasis on environmental stewardship.

Dr. Mote is a leader in the national dialogue on higher education and his analyses of shifting funding models have been featured in local and national media. He has testified on major educational issues before Congress, representing the University and higher education associations on the problem of visa barriers for international students and scholars and on deemed export control issues. He has been asked to serve on a high level National Academies Committee appointed at the request of the Senate Energy Subcommittee of the Senate Energy and Natural Resources Committee to identify challenges to United States leadership in key areas of science and technology and to be a member of the Leadership Council of the National Innovation Initiative, an activity of the Council on Competitiveness. He has served as vice chair of the Department of Defense Basic Research Committee, and is a member of the Council of the National Academy of Engineering. In 2004-2005, he served as President of the Atlantic Coast Conference. In its last ranking in 2002, "Washington Business Forward" magazine counted him among the top 20 most influential leaders in the region.

Prior to assuming the Presidency at Maryland, Dr. Mote served on the University of California, Berkeley faculty for 31 years. From 1991 to 1998, he was Vice Chancellor at Berkeley, held an endowed chair in Mechanical Systems and was President of the UC Berkeley Foundation. He led a comprehensive capital campaign for Berkeley that raised $1.4 B. He earlier served as chair of Berkeley's Department of Mechanical Engineering and led the department to its number one ranking in the National Research Council review of graduate program effectiveness.

Dr. Mote's research lies in dynamic systems and biomechanics. Internationally recognized for his research on the dynamics of gyroscopic systems and the biomechanics of snow skiing, he has produced more than 300 publications, holds patents in the U.S., Norway, Finland and Sweden, and has mentored 56 Ph.D. students. He received the B.S., M.S. and Ph.D. in mechanical engineering from the University of California, Berkeley. President Mote has received numerous awards and honors, including the Humboldt Prize awarded by the Federal Republic of Germany. He is a recipient of the Berkeley Citation, an award from the University of California-Berkeley similar to the honorary doctorate, and was named Distinguished Engineering Alumnus. He has received two honorary doctorates. He is a member of the U.S. National Academy of Engineering and serves on its Council, and is a member of the American Academy of Arts and Sciences. He was elected to Honorary Membership in the ASME International, its most distinguished recognition, and is a Fellow of the International Academy of Wood Science, the Acoustical Society of America, and the American Association for the Advancement of Science. In Spring 2005, he was named recipient of the 2005 J. P. Den Hartog award by the ASME International Technical Committee on Vibration and Sound to honor his lifelong contribution to the teaching and/or practice of vibration engineering. In Fall 2005, he received the 2005 Founders Award from the National Academy of Engineering in recognition of his comprehensive body of work on the dynamics of moving flexible structures and for leadership in academia.

He and his wife of over 40 years, Patricia Mote, have two married children, Melissa and Adam, and four grandchildren. Patsy Mote has continued her strong support of the arts and is spokesperson for the Clarice Smith Performing Arts Center and a member of Prince George's County Arts Commission.

DEBORAH A. YOW

DIRECTOR OF ATHLETICS • 14TH YEAR AT MARYLAND

Deborah A. Yow is in the 14th year of her outstanding tenure as director of athletics at the University of Maryland, a tenure that has seen unprecedented success and achievement in Maryland athletics. In Yow's 13-plus years at Maryland, the Terrapins have won a remarkable 15 national championships and graduated student-athletes at an enviable rate as Maryland athletics has soared to sustained new heights among the nation's elite intercollegiate athletic programs.

The comprehensive success of Terrapin athletics under Debbie Yow's leadership is a clear and compelling testimony of her values of excellence, teamwork and accountability.

Likewise, her prior election to the presidency of the National Association of Collegiate Directors of Athletics is an indication of the wide respect with which she is regarded among its 6,100 members representing 1,600 colleges and universities in the U.S. and Canada.

She has been honored by Street and Smith's Sports Business Journal as one of the 20 most influential people in intercollegiate athletics and she has received the Carl Maddox Sport Management Award presented by the United States Sports Academy for excellence in athletics administration.

Dr. Yow was selected to serve on the U.S. Department of Education's Commission on Opportunities in Athletics to review the status of Federal Title IX regulations. She recently served as the chair of the Atlantic Coast Conference Committee on Television. The committee is charged with overseeing the league's TV contracts and dealing with issues related to television, including multi-year ACC football and basketball contracts with ABC, ESPN, ESPN2 and syndication entities. In January 2008, she will become a member of the Board of Directors of the National Football Foundation.

Additionally, she has represented intercollegiate athletics with presentations in a number of prominent settings such as the Harvard University School of Law conference on "Shaping the Future of Collegiate Athletics" and the Street and Smith's Sports Business Journal "National Forum on the Direction of Intercollegiate Athletics" in New York. She was also recently inducted into the State of Maryland Women's Hall of Fame and the North Carolina Sports Hall of Fame, joining fellow Terp Buck Williams as honorees.

Yow, who has served on the NCAA Management Council and the NCAA Division I Budget Committee, is a strong and steady voice on behalf of intercollegiate athletics in America.

Since taking over as AD at Maryland in 1994, she and her staff have:

- Transformed Terrapin athletics into a responsive, goal-oriented organization with 27 sports and more than 700 student-athletes.
- Balanced all 13 of the department's annual budgets (none of the budgets were balanced in the 10 years prior to her arrival). The budget has now reached $56 million annually and the multi-million dollar accumulated operating debt which her administration inherited has been eradicated.
- Greatly enhanced the academic support services provided for student-athletes, with an enviable exhausted eligibility graduation rate of approximately 85 percent for student athletes at Maryland.
- Led the Terrapins to a national all-sports ranking in the upper 7 percent of all NCAA Division I institutions.
- Significantly expanded marketing and fund-raising efforts on behalf of Terrapin athletics. As a result, private gifts to athletics have increased over 350 percent and corporate sponsorship revenues have increased by over 300 percent during her tenure at Maryland.
- Continued to dramatically improve venues and facilities for the department's 27 teams. The Comcast Center for men's and women's basketball and other sports that use the facility is a prime example of the remarkable upgrade of athletic facilities.
- Implemented a strategic management model.
- Developed a comprehensive Internet strategy with management, marketing and fund-raising applications.

IN DECEMBER OF 2004, DEBORAH A. YOW WAS NAMED ONE OF THE MOST INFLUENTIAL PEOPLE IN COLLEGE ATHLETICS BY STREET & SMITH'S SPORTS BUSINESS JOURNAL.

Yow congratulates one of the members of the Maryland Competitive Cheer team that won the 2006 NCA Division I National Championship.

- Significantly improved customer care in every area of Maryland athletics.

The most recent achievements of Maryland athletics are exceptional:

- Maryland captured a remarkable six national championships during the past two seasons.
- In 2006, the Terrapins achieved the highest student-athlete graduation rate in the history of Maryland athletics.
- Fundraising for Maryland athletics set a historic mark of $31 million in 2006-07.
- Maryland was selected by U.S. News & World Report as one of the Top 20 athletic programs in the nation (for overall quality and competitive excellence).
- In 2005-06, Maryland Athletics won the inaugural PRISM Award as the most well-managed Division I collegiate athletics program in the nation.
- Maryland was ranked as the sixth-finest athletic program in the nation by the Laboratory for the Study of Intercollegiate Athletics, based on comprehensive criteria such as graduation rates, financial efficiency, equity effectiveness and competitive excellence.
- In men's basketball, the Terps won the Atlantic Coast Conference title over Duke in the championship game in 2004 and won the NCAA National Championship in 2002. Under Coach Gary Williams, the men's basketball team appeared in 11 consecutive NCAA Tournaments and in 12 of the last 14 tournaments.
- Women's basketball won the 2006 NCAA National Championship under head coach Brenda Frese, completing an amazing turnaround that saw the program go from a 10-18 record to a National Championship in four seasons.
- In football, the Terps won the 2001 Atlantic Coast Conference championship and played in the 2002 Orange Bowl, followed that with an 11-win season and a 30-3 victory over the University of Tennessee in the Peach Bowl, again followed by a 10-win season and a 41-7 win over West Virginia in the Gator Bowl on New Year's Day 2004. In the 2006-07 season, Maryland returned to the bowl scene, where the Terps beat Purdue, 24-7, in the Champs Sports Bowl. Graduation rates in football are exemplary and the program was recently recognized by the American Football Coaches Association for its academic excellence under Coach Ralph Friedgen.
- Additionally, Maryland is one of only nine universities to win the National Championship in football and men's basketball and is one of only three universities in the nation to win National Championships in men's basketball, women's basketball and football. Stanford and UCLA are the only other NCAA Division I institutions to achieve that mark.
- Set an ACC single-game record for women's basketball attendance by drawing 17,950 to a regular-season game at Comcast Center and led the ACC in season attendance.
- Hired Dave Cottle, the third-winningest active men's lacrosse coach in the U.S., who guided his team to the NCAA Final Four in his second year.
- Field hockey earned National Championships in 2005-06 and in 2006-07, and has become a perennial participant in the Final Four in that sport.
- In women's lacrosse, hired Kathy Nelson Reese, who was named the 2007 ACC Coach of the Year in her first season as coach of the Terps.
- Men's soccer has appeared in four Final Fours in the past five years and won the NCAA National Championship.
- Football facilities have been significantly enhanced with team house, stadium and practice field upgrades. The Academic Center was the first improvement, as it took priority over all other initiatives.
- The Terrapins have moved into the $130 million Comcast Center, housing athletic department offices and seating for 18,000 fans for basketball and other events – part of a remarkable $250 million upgrade and expansion of athletics facilities during Dr. Yow's leadership of Maryland Athletics.
- In 2006-07, 24 Maryland teams competed in postseason play.
- The productivity, morale, and the competitive and academic achievement of Terrapin athletics are exceptional and continue to gain momentum.

Dr. Yow with Boomer Esiason (left), Bonnie Bernstein (center) and Steve Francis (right).

Regarding the many achievements of Terrapin athletics over the past 13 years, Yow says, "We are pleased, but we are not satisfied... our vision is to be one of the Top 5 programs in the nation consistently... we see no reason to settle for less."

Yow is known for her goal-oriented and proactive management style. She consistently inspires and challenges those around her to "raise our sights and sharpen our tools... to work hard and work smart... to recognize that our only limitations are those that we place upon ourselves."

As a manager and a leader, she clearly models these principles. She is the only known current AD in NCAA Division I who has hired both the National Coach of the Year in football (while at Maryland) and the National Coach of the Year in men's basketball (while at Saint Louis University). In 2002, she also brought to the University of Maryland Brenda Frese, who at that time was the National Coach of the Year in women's basketball. Four years later, Frese led the Terrapins to the NCAA National Championship at the Women's Final Four in Boston.

Dr. Yow is known as "a coach's AD," while also being highly organized and a strategic and proactive leader and administrator. Quite simply, Debbie Yow personifies the relational and management dynamics that are necessary to be an excellent administrator and leader.

A successful former basketball coach at the University of Kentucky and University of Florida, she moved into athletics administration at the University of Florida and the University of North Carolina, Greensboro, followed by a successful tenure as AD at Saint Louis University.

She has authored numerous articles and books on athletics management and human behavior, and is a respected leader in intercollegiate athletics in the United States.

Summing up the entire Maryland athletics program, our athletics director recently stated, "We have the finest student-athletes, coaches, support staff and administrative team in America. It is because of their courage, hard work and cooperative spirit that we now have a strong, viable athletic program. I am immensely proud of each of them. I am equally proud of our Terrapin fans who buy tickets, our Terrapin Club members who faithfully support the Maryland athletic program with their donations for scholarships, and the M Club members who serve and give liberally. We are also blessed with a terrific President, Dr. Dan Mote, who has fostered a mindset of excellence across our institution. He is a strong and balanced advocate for what he calls 'the three A's of the University -- Academics, the Arts and Athletics'. We have a great Terrapin family. That's the foundation for all of our success... and the basis for our bright future. It's a great time to be a Terp."

ACADEMIC SUPPORT AND CAREER DEVELOPMENT

The University of Maryland is committed to providing the highest quality education to all of its students. The Department of Intercollegiate Athletics strives to provide student-athletes excellent opportunities to participate in an intercollegiate athletics program of the highest quality, with the result that their athletics participation becomes an integral and valued component of their total educational experience at the university.

Terrapin student-athletes will find that the same hard work and discipline that has earned them success in athletics competition is also required in the classroom. Balancing the significant time demands and responsibilities required to be a successful student-athlete at the highest collegiate level is no small task. Therefore, as a result of their commitment to representing the university through athletics, Terrapin student-athletes are able to utilize support programs designed to meet their specific needs.

Led by associate athletics director Anton Goff, the mission of the Academic Support and Career Development Unit (ASCDU) is to provide quality developmental programs and need-based services that will enhance academic progress, facilitate career development, and encourage the psychosocial growth of all UM student-athletes. Laura Meckley works with the Maryland women's soccer team.

The Gossett Academic Support and Career Development Center for Terrapin student-athletes, named for long-time Terp supporters Barry and Mary Gossett, is located in the Comcast Center. It features a study center that includes 25 desktop computers, a tutoring center, a classroom, a CHAMPS/Life Skills resource room and individual offices for professional academic counselors, a director of enrichment programs, an assistant program coordinator and a graduate assistant. In addition, a new academic wing was added to the Gossett football team house recently. It features offices for two counselors, a program coordinator and three learning specialists; as well as a quiet study area, 29-desk computer lab, classroom, tutor rooms and classroom/lab for the individualized learning program.

Academic courses, programs and services offered by ASCDU include the following:

- Student-athlete orientation
- Academic counseling
- NCAA academic eligibility monitoring
- Academic enrichment and career development presentations and workshops
- Accredited tutorial support
- Individualized learning program
- EDCP 108-K (College learning strategies and skills)
- EDCP 108-M (Math learning strategies and skills)
- UNIV 100 (First-year transitions to the university)

MARYLAND GAMEPLAN

The Maryland Gameplan is intended to assist graduating Terrapin student-athletes as they begin the job search process. It is distributed to more than 500 corporations and businesses across the country, in addition to being featured on the M Club website. Prospective employers are introduced to our graduating student-athletes with resume information relative to academic, career and personal achievements. The Maryland Gameplan directory is produced annually in collaboration with the M Club.

CAREER NETWORKING NIGHT

Because career development is an ongoing process, ASCDU provides a variety of programs for student-athletes throughout the year. Professional assistance with resume-writing, interviewing skills, graduate school search and job search is readily available to all student-athletes. During the spring semester ASCDU hosts the Career Networking Night, where student-athletes can learn about career interests and career planning. Unlike typical "job fairs," the purpose of this program is to allow student-athletes to explore multiple career opportunities by speaking directly to individuals in their chosen areas of interest. Employers at the Career Networking Night recognize the marketable qualities student-athletes have gained through athletic participation. Student-athletes learn about opportunities for internships and full-time jobs.

STUDENT-ATHLETE ADVISORY COMMITTEE

The Student-Athlete Advisory Committee (S.A.A.C.) plays an important role in the Department of Intercollegiate Athletics. It consists of two representatives from each varsity sport and meets on a regular basis with representatives from the athletic administration. The S.A.A.C. mission is to enhance the total student-athlete experience by developing leadership skills, promoting student-athlete welfare and fostering a positive student-athlete image on the Maryland campus, local area and nationally.

CHAMPS/LIFE SKILLS PROGRAMS

ASCDU houses the NCAA's (National Collegiate Athletic Association) CHAMPS/Life Skills Program. The ASCDU staff, in collaboration with various other Department of Intercollegiate Athletics' units and campus resources, strives to provide a systematic personal development program designed to reach each student-athlete based on his or her individual needs. The focus of the program is on the individual academically, athletically and emotionally, and on the changing needs and skills of that individual in the years during college and after graduation. The menu of presentations, workshops and seminars is a comprehensive and balanced system of "life learning" programs promoted for use by each varsity sport team.

Highlights of the CHAMPS/Life Skills Programs:

- Support efforts of every student-athlete toward intellectual development and graduation
- Use athletics as preparation for success in life
- Meet the changing needs of student-athletes
- Promote respect for diversity among student-athletes
- Enhance interpersonal relationships in the lives of student-athletes
- Assist student-athletes in building positive self-esteem
- Enable student-athletes to make meaningful contributions to their communities
- Promote ownership by the student-athletes of their academic, athletic, personal and social responsibilities
- Enhance partnerships between the NCAA, member institutions and their communities for the purpose of education
- Encourage the development of leadership skills

ACADEMIC SUPPORT FOR RETURNING ATHLETES PROGRAM

The Academic Support for Returning Athletes Program was created in 1986 to support the academic efforts of former varsity student-athletes at the University of Maryland, College Park. In 1989, ASRAP was assigned by the President's Office to the Academic Achievements Program and enrolled 40 students that year. As a member of the National Consortium for Academics and Sports (NCAS), the University of Maryland is committed to assisting its former athletes with degree completion. A key component of the program is community outreach. Each returning student completes a "workship" that allows the cost of tuition and fees to be exchanged for community services with youth. In 2002, ASRAP moved into the ASCDU.

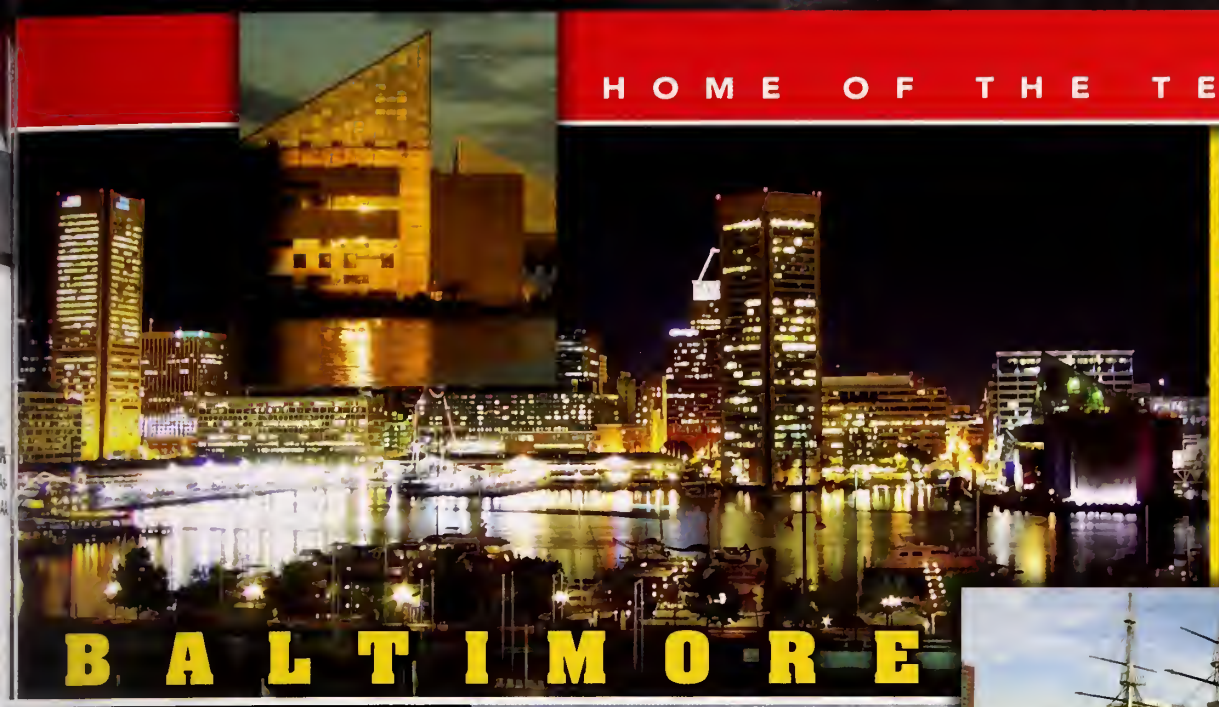
HOME OF THE TERRAPINS



BALTIMORE

So much, so close... It's all here beyond the University of Maryland campus. City lights, history, sparkling waterfronts, monumental landscapes, jazz, film festivals, marches and demonstrations, shopping, professional sports, regattas on the Chesapeake Bay. Not just one city, but three. Not just any city, but the nation's capital, a major port city, and the state capital of Maryland.... Home of the Terrapins!
